

The Yun Family's Ninth Child is an Imp! Chapter 1019

Everyone entered through the main entrance of the Tianyuan Academy, and a sense of pride suddenly rose in their hearts.

Even the students of the Huang class felt that their pride was boundless. No matter how weak they were, being able to enter the Tianyuan Academy was still a testament to their strength.

Everyone came to the Tianyuan Academy's general affairs office to receive the Academy's starter kit. Each person had two sets of academy uniforms and one identity jade token.

The academy uniforms of each class were roughly the same. They were all white long robes, but the Tianyuan Academy logo at the corner of their robes were of different colors. The Tian Class was white, the Di Class was purple, the Xuan Class was blue, and the Huang Class was black.

The students of the Tian Class suddenly felt that they were different from the others. They acted all high and mighty, and when they reached the student dormitory, the difference was even more obvious.

The dormitory of the Tian Class was closer to the central area of Tianyuan Academy. The Di Class was next, and the Xuan Class was next. As for the Huang Class, they were furthest away, close to the walls of Tianyuan Academy.

The most important thing was that it was forbidden to fly within Tianyuan Academy and they could only walk on two legs. That meant the students of the Huang Class spent much more time on the road than the students of the other three classes.

The instructors of the other three classes patiently instructed the students of their respective classes to pay attention to various matters, the instructor of Huang Class, Ji Sha, took out a roasted chicken drumstick and said to the students of the Huang Class while chewing, "You guys go behind the three classes and listen to them. They are all saying the same thing anyway. Go now!"

The students of the Huang Class felt as if ten thousand divine beasts were roared in their hearts. 'Holy shit! Are there any other instructors as irresponsible as you? What do you mean it's the same thing anyway? You're lazy! You're lazy!'

However, they were powerless to do anything. The students of Huang Class had no choice but to thicken their skins and stand behind the other classes, listening to the other three instructors explain the things they should pay attention to.

Yun Chujiu's focus was different from the others. She sniffed. 'Emma, where did this instructor Ji Sha get the drumstick from? Why did it look so delicious? The outer skin was golden and the meat inside was juicy. It looked very delicious.'

Ji Sha was munching happily when he felt a hungry wolf's gaze. He looked up and saw a pretty little girl who did not go to the other instructors to listen to the rules, instead, she stared at the roasted drumstick in his hand.

Ji Sha could not eat the roasted chicken drumstick anymore. He frowned. "Little girl, why aren't you listening to the rules? Aren't you afraid of violating the academy's rules?"

Yun Chujiu said with a smile, "It's okay. I'll just ask the others later. Instructor Ji Sha, may I ask, where did you buy this roasted chicken? Why does it smell so good?"

Ji Sha's eyes twitched. He never dreamed that a student would ask such a question, he looked at the drumstick in his hand and then looked at Yun Chujiu. "This is made by Old Ding in the canteen. He doesn't usually make it a part of the regular menu."

"Instructor Ji Sha, ask that Old Ding to make a few hundred for me! I'll give him Spirit Stones!" Yun Chujiu's eyes shone with blue light. This roast chicken looked very good!

Ji Sha frowned and looked at Yun Chujiu. "Why should I help you?"

“Instructor Ji Sha, I won’t let you help me for free. I see that you are also a very busy person. I am the most enthusiastic person. In the future, I will take care of all the matters of the Huang Class. I will take care of everything that is passed down from the top to the bottom. You just need to say the word.” Yun Chujju blinked her eyes, she said with a smile.

Ji Sha squinted his eyes and a faint light flashed in them. “Deal!”
