

The Yun Family's Ninth Child is an Imp! Chapter 1021

The three instructors had also chosen a class monitor from their respective classes. However, they might have had preconceived ideas. No matter how they looked at it, their words were not as pleasing to the ear as Yun Chujiu's. The three instructors could only comfort themselves, no matter how glib one's mouth was, it was useless. They still had to rely on their spiritual power to speak. The Huang class's lack of aptitude and talent was obvious. No matter how hard they struggled, they could not surpass them.

At the time, Yun Chujiu had already brought the Huang Class's students to the Huang Class's dormitory area.

Before everyone arrived, they first passed by the dormitories of the other three classes. When they saw their own dormitory, their mood was smothered by a wet blanket!

Needless to say, the dormitory of the Tian Class was exquisite and neat. Although the conditions of the Di Class and the Xuan Class were slightly worse than the Tian Class, it was still acceptable, but what the hell were these rows of dormitories that looked like haunted houses?

Yun Chujiu coughed dryly. "Didn't you hear that there hasn't been a Huang class in the past few years? So it's understandable that this dormitory is a little dilapidated. From a different perspective, this is also a good thing. We can change the courtyard into the appearance that we like according to our own ideas. Things that can be solved with Spirit Stones are not a problem. Doesn't the academy have handymen? Just let them clean it up. This is not a problem at all!"

Most of the people in the Huang class were people who followed Yun Chujiu in the fourth round of the test. Each of them received ten thousand high-grade Spirit Stones for free. Therefore, when they heard Yun Chujiu's words, they felt that it was reasonable. Yun Chujiu simply assigned a few students to be in charge of contacting the handyman who repaired the house. When the time came, they would settle the payment together.

The jade tokens of the Tianyuan Academy also functioned as a voice transmission talisman. This was very easy to contact, but it was only limited to the area of the Tianyuan Academy.

Not long after, a few dozen handymen came over. After negotiating the price, the handymen began to clean and repair the dormitories. The dormitories looked extremely dilapidated, but in reality, it was only because no one had cleaned them for many years. After half a day, the dormitories looked completely new. Yun Chujiu asked the students with wood spirit roots to help grow some vines and flowers in the various courtyards. Immediately, these dormitories looked more lively.

Yun Chujiu asked everyone to hand over a thousand high-grade Spirit Stones. Other than paying for the repair of the houses, the rest of the Spirit Stones were kept by her. It was euphemistically called the "Class Fee." In the future, if there was a need, they would withdraw the Spirit Stones from that source of funds.

Everyone did not have any objections. After all, this money was originally given to them by Yun Chujiu. If she wanted to be greedy, she would not have given it to them in the first place, right?!

"Students of the Huang class, look at our clean and beautiful dormitory now. Think about the dilapidated scene we saw half a day ago. Doesn't it look much better now?"

"Sometimes, when you encounter a difficult situation, as long as you put in a little effort, you can turn around a terrible situation. The premise is that you must never give up, and you must face it optimistically and positively! Alright, now let's move in according to the student numbers!" Yun Chujiu did not forget to say a few motivational words for these people at all times.

Yun Chujiu's student number was very unfortunate, it was still number 250. She already had no strength to complain, so 250 it was. According to the order, she was placed in the last dormitory, which was the furthest from the center of the Academy, not far from her dormitory was the courtyard wall of Tianyuan Academy.

Seeing this, some students took the initiative to offer to exchange their numbers with Yun Chujiu. Yun Chujiu waved her hands and rejected their kind intentions.
