

The Yun Family's Ninth Child is an Imp! Chapter 1023

After Yun Chujiu activated the locks in the courtyard, she was escorted by the crowd towards the plaza of Tianyuan Academy.

Along the way, the large group of students attracted the attention of the crowd as expected. Other than during group activities, the rest of the time, the students of Tianyuan Academy all usually traveled in groups of three to five. They had never seen an entire class of people move together.

After some students saw the clothes of Yun Chujiu and the others, they discussed, "So it's those first-grade rookies from the Huang class. I guess they are too timid and dare not move around alone."

"What you said makes sense. Their spiritual power is too low, so they think that they have the advantage in numbers. They are really naive!"

"The little girl they are surrounding is very pretty. However, she is only at the first level of the spirit sect. How can she be so popular?"

"Didn't you hear them call her class monitor? She is probably the class monitor of the Huang Class. They let a little girl at the first level of the Spirit sect be the class monitor. Those people are useless!"

"You guys don't know yet, right? That little girl's name is Yun Chujiu, and she ascended from the Azure Mystic Continent. I heard that she obtained first place in the first two rounds of the test. In the third round of the test, it was because she destroyed the array core that the fourth round of the test was conducted. In the fourth round of the test, I heard that this little girl even did business inside and earned several million high-grade Spirit Stones..."

"What? Really? How is this possible? Isn't that little girl only at the first level of the spirit sect? How could she have achieved all that?"

“I heard that this little girl is an old friend of the Palace Mistress. I reckon that the Palace Mistress didn’t help her much, so she took advantage of this opportunity to obtain such results. If not for this, why would she be assigned to the Huang Class?”

When the Huang class students saw that everyone was pointing at them, the inferiority complex and depression in their hearts surged up once again. They could not even walk naturally, Yun Chujiu frowned. “Straighten your chests and stomach! Where is your energy, and spirit? We only entered Tianyuan Academy after going through all those hurdles. We should be sitting upright with pride. There is nothing to be ashamed of. All of you, Straighten Up!”

After Yun Chujiu finished speaking, she walked to the front with her head held high and chest puffed out. The imposing manner from her body made people forget that she was only at the first level of the spirit sect. When the students from the Huang class saw this, they also imitated Yun Chujiu. They raised their heads, straightened their chests, sucked their stomach in, and walked forward without looking sideways. Perhaps it was because of their psychological effects, but they felt that they were not much weaker than those gossiping students.

Thus, everyone saw the freshmen of the Huang class walk into Tianyuan Square with a majestic aura under the lead of a little girl.

Although the spiritual power of the Huang class was the lowest, they had a different kind of spirit compared to the students of the other three classes. They had vigor and unyielding strength.

After Yun Chujiu led the Huang class to Tianyuan Square, she did not let everyone sit on the ground. Instead, they sat in a square formation, in a row, and in a diagonal line. From the aura, they were able to suppress the other three classes.

The other three classes students also subconsciously straightened their posture. They began to align themselves according to the Huang class and gradually formed a square formation.

When the academy's higher-ups and the instructors arrived, they saw the three square formations of the new students seated below them. They then looked at the old students who were sitting in a mess beside them and thought to themselves, although this batch of new students had average talent, their discipline was still pretty good. Especially the square formation of the Huang class. It gave them an imposing aura just from sitting in formation. Furthermore, this kind of aura made it very easy for people to overlook their low spirit energy..
