

The Yun Family's Ninth Child is an Imp! Chapter 1173

Yun chujiu had the three silly beasts keep an eye on her. She took the opportunity to take a nap before the sun went down. She must have a tough battle to fight at night, so she had to reserve some strength first. After the sun went down, the entire grassland became pitch black. The sky was covered by dark clouds, and there was no moonlight or starlight at all. Wu Yun and Yun Chujiu looked at each other. Yun chujiu pursed her lips and took out a large necklace from her storage ring. There were three luminous pearls on it, and instantly, the area within a few miles was illuminated by the light. Yun Chujiu felt a chill run down her spine when she saw the scene in front of her. This was no longer the grassland that was full of vitality during the day. This was a freaking boneyard. The ground was filled with white bones. There were demonic beasts and humans. They were emitting a faint blue light. Those who were timid would have fainted immediately. Fortunately, Yun Chujiu was a daring person. She bowed to the white bones: "Everyone! Please forgive me! Please forgive me! I was completely tricked into this place by the trial tower's Qi Ling. I didn't mean to offend you. I believe that all of you were tricked to death by this damn qi ling. I will burn some paper money for all of you. Recite the incantation of rebirth and rest in peace!" Yun chujiu did not have any paper money. She took out a few pieces of Xuan paper and tore them up before throwing them on the ground. While Yun chujiu was mumbling about "Ferrying the souls of the dead", the white bones on the ground suddenly flew up. Yun chujiu widened her eyes and watched as the broken bones reassembled into countless human and demon beast skeletons, they pounced on her. "Aiyo! You Can't repay kindness with enmity! I was kind enough to ferrying you, but you still want to kill me to be your companion? "Let me tell you, I'm a black-hearted person. Even my bones are black. I'm Not Like You guys, I'm not a beast, and I'm definitely not a skeleton!" Although Yun chujiu was shouting, her brain was working fast. This was a plain, there was no way for her to escape. Moreover, these white bone puppets did not have intelligence, so she could only fight them head-on! Yun chujiu fired several bolts of lightning at one of the skeletal puppets! When the lightning struck the white bones, other than leaving a charred black mark, it did not have much effect. On the contrary, this strike made the skeletal puppet charge at Yun Chujiu even faster! Yun chujiu had no choice but to shoot out a few more purple needles. After the explosion, although the skeletal puppet's movements were slightly slowed down, it was not very effective., what was worse was that thousands of puppets had already surrounded Yun chujiu from all directions. Despite being in such a critical situation, Yun Chujiu's mind was still relatively calm. How did these white bone puppets kill their prey? This fellow took out a demon beast corpse from his storage ring and threw it at the white bone puppet! Immediately, several white bone puppets surrounded the demon beast. Then, the faint blue light on the bodies of the white bone puppets gathered on the Demon Beast Corpse. In an instant, the demon beast turned into white bones. What was even more terrifying was that., the white bones turned into a new white bone puppet. F * ck! This was just like a zombie. A person who was bitten would also turn into a zombie. It was too scary! Zombies were afraid of donkey hoofs and glutinous rice. were these white bone puppets afraid? Although Yun Chujiu did not have donkey hoofs in her storage ring, she did have glutinous rice. She took out a basin and threw it at the white bone puppets! It was useless! It was over, it was over. She did not expect to pass through the seventh floor. This time, she would die at the hands of these white bone puppets!
