

The Yun Family's Ninth Child is an Imp! Chapter 1322

Dharma Protector Tao's spiritual power peacock blocked Dharma Protector Tao's spiritual power tiger. The two spiritual powers collided with a dazzling light and dissolved each other. However, it was obvious that Dharma Protector Tao's spiritual power level was higher than Dharma Protector Tao's because Dharma Protector Tao was very relaxed, but Dharma Protector Tao's wife had used her full strength in this attack. Yun Chujiu decided to put the matter of the Little Piggy aside for the time being, she said mockingly, "Dharma Protector Tao is really... Tsk Tsk, he's really amazing. He can even attack a little girl at the fifth level of the Spirit sect. He's really a great hero! "How about this, let's change the bet. If our side loses, we'll immediately surrender and let you do whatever you want. If you lose, you'll give us ten hours to catch our breath. That way, you'll at least dare to accept the challenge, right?" Dharma Protector Tao's eyes flickered. He naturally understood Yun Chujiu's intention. She was stalling for time. He weighed the pros and cons. If the two sides fought, it would probably take a few hours to determine the final winner. If they agreed to the competition, if they could win, it would reduce the casualties. Even if they failed.., letting them delay for ten hours would not affect the overall situation. Dharma Protector Tao weighed the pros and cons and said, "Alright! I agree with what you said. Three out of five wins." Yun chujiu blinked her eyes. "Words have no basis. You have to swear an inner demon oath! "I'll go first. Heaven is above. If the longevity hall loses the competition, we will surrender voluntarily. If we go against the oath, we will let the heavenly lightning strike me to death. Strike me with all your strength. Strike me for ten hours! "I'm done talking. It's your turn, Dharma Protector Tao!" Dharma protector Tao could not help but laugh inwardly when he saw that Yun Chu had actually made such a vicious heart demon oath. This was just a reckless little girl. He did not know what the Lady of the Hall Master was thinking, but she had actually allowed her to do as she pleased.., however, this was a good thing for them. Dharma Protector Tao had also made a heart demon oath. Of course, his words were not as serious as Yun Chujiu's. He only said that if they went against their oath, they were willing to be punished by the Tian Dao or something like that. Both sides had reached an agreement. The people of the nether world hall retreated some distance, and the empty space was used as the venue for the competition. Since it was a competition, both sides naturally sent the five people with the strongest spiritual power to fight. The Longevity Hall chose the five secret guards with the highest spiritual power. However, the secret guards with the highest spiritual power were sent to destroy the core of the array, so the highest spiritual power they chose was only at the fourth level of the Supreme Spirit realm. The temple of the Netherworld had chosen one at the fifth level of the spiritual venerable realm and four at the fourth level of the spiritual venerable realm. Before the competition, Yun Chujiu called the five people to the side, she said in a low voice, "Of course it's important to win or lose, but the most important thing is to protect your little lives and try to stall for time. The oath I made is bullshit. You Don't have to worry about it. Do you understand?" These five people had never seen Yun Chujiu's abnormal performance. The secret guards who had gone to the Azure Mystic Continent before had all followed di beiming to the spirit stone mine, so they did not understand what Yun chujiu meant by the oath, however, they all nodded in agreement. After the competition began, although the spiritual power of the people from the Hall of the Netherworld was higher than that of the secret guards from the Hall of longevity, it was clear that the secret guards from the Hall of longevity had a more solid foundation of spiritual power, and their desire to survive was stronger. Therefore, after four rounds, it was actually two to two draws, the fifth round was very crucial. Yun Chujiu's side was left with a secret guard at the third level of the spiritual venerable realm, while the other side was left with a fifth level spiritual venerable. There was almost no suspense about the outcome of the battle. The difference of one level of spirit power was enough to give it a try, but the difference of two levels was too difficult to win.
