

The Yun Family's Ninth Child is an Imp! Chapter 1412

The competition was divided into two stages.

The first stage was the competition of the five arts of cultivators, and the second stage was the competition of spiritual power. The results of each stage were calculated separately, and the stakes were 50 million high-grade spiritual stones.

The host gave a simple introduction, and the first stage of the five arts of cultivators competition officially began.

The five arts of cultivators were divided into artifact refining, array formation, pill refining, Talisman Seal, and beast taming. Although only a few cultivators cultivated the five arts of cultivators, these five arts were indispensable to a continent, especially artifact refining and pill refining, the level of these two things determined the level of spiritual power of a continent to a certain extent.

The first event was the weapon refining competition. Tian Yuan Academy and the Nether Academy each sent five students to participate in the weapon refining competition.

Refining a spiritual weapon was very time-consuming and laborious. Of course, the crowd did not have the patience to watch them knock and knock. Therefore, in this round of the weapon refining competition, the competition was to repair a spiritual weapon.

Spirit tools were expensive. Naturally, it was impossible to throw them away just because they were a little damaged. Therefore, besides refining, repairing spirit tools was also an important skill for blacksmiths.

After a good blacksmithing master repaired a spirit tool, it would even be better than the original spirit tool. It could even be upgraded. For example, the original low-grade profound grade spirit tool, after being repaired by a blacksmithing master., it was very likely that it would become a middle-grade profound grade spirit tool.

The host gestured for the staff to hand over the damaged spiritual devices. These spiritual devices were all damaged by the instructors of both parties, and the degree of damage was basically the same. However, for the sake of fairness., the contestants selected the spiritual devices to be repaired by drawing lots.

After the students of the competition drew the spiritual devices to be repaired, they began to repair them nervously.

The refiner furnaces needed to be carried by the contestants themselves, and the Earth fire was ready-made. Even during the alchemy competition, the earth fire was also supplied.

Every participant's workbench had all kinds of materials and tools prepared, and everything was prepared.

“TSK! I think the Nether Academy is going to lose this time! Look at that speed, it’s much slower than the students of our Tian Yuan Academy!”

“Exactly! The Nether Academy still wants to compete with our Tian Yuan Academy? Bah! They are simply overestimating themselves!”

The people of the nether continent were naturally unwilling to be outdone. They immediately retorted, “You Idiots! What’s the use of being fast? Can’t you see that the students of our Nether Academy have repaired it more meticulously?”

“That’s right. In any case, we can finish it within the stipulated six hours. What’s the point of doing it so quickly? It’s not a competition to see who can do it faster. We have to repair it properly!”

The crowd that was watching the commotion discussed animatedly. Of course, they were all supporting the students of their respective continents. They kept on bickering. Fortunately, there was an almighty seated at the VIP stand, so they were only limited to verbal bickering.

As the saying went, ‘The Layman watches the show, the expert watches the skill.’the few teachers of the Tianyuan Academy who taught refining looked very solemn. The refining techniques of the students of the Nether Academy were very experienced, and one look was enough to tell that they had gone through years of training, compared to the Tianyuan Academy, although their speed was fast, their techniques were obviously much more clumsy. The result of this competition was not optimistic.

After six hours, the ten participants had completed their repairs. Some had relaxed expressions, while others had solemn expressions.

The ten instructors of the evaluation began to grade. They had already made a mental demon oath beforehand, so there was no need to worry about cheating.

The results were announced very quickly. The first place of the competition was obtained by the Nether Academy's Qin Yin, and the Nether Academy obtained the victory of the artifact refining competition.

Compared to the first place being obtained by the Nether Academy, what made the Tianyuan Academy even more embarrassed was that only one student named Feng Yutang obtained the fourth place in the Tianyuan Academy, while the other four were actually ranked in the last four places.
