

The Yun Family's Ninth Child is an Imp! Chapter 1575

The palace mistress glanced at him and said: "If you regret it, you can go back now. I will go to the garden by myself."

Di Linhan braced himself and said: "Who said I have to go back? The weather is so good and it is perfect for a walk outside. Moreover, the clothes you made for me, Jin Se, are so, so unique. It would be nice to let more people see them."

The Lady of the Palace Hall pursed her lips into a smile and stretched out her hand. Di Linhan was not stupid, he quickly held it and the two of them walked forward hand in hand.

Di Linhan held the soft hand in his hand, the joy that was overflowing from the bottom of his heart had washed away all the face and awkwardness, and he only felt that for this moment, it wouldn't matter even if he had to wear the clothes for a few more days!

Hence, the servants of the hall of Immortals saw their usually solemn and imposing palace lord dressed in a strange robe, wearing an ugly looking satchet... , laughing Like a fool, he walked hand in hand with the palace Lord's wife towards the back garden.

For the next two days, Di Linhan was forced by the Palace Lord's wife to wear that unique robe. At first, Di Linhan was still feeling a little uncomfortable, but as time passed, he did not feel that it was a big deal... , it did not matter that he had let go of his pride, and he felt that the feeling of letting go of his ego was not too bad.

Most importantly, the relationship between Di Linhan and the mistress of the Palace Hall seemed to have returned to the feeling of being passionately in love. The two of them spent their days together, drinking tea, playing chess, going for a walk, and of course, they could not avoid having intimate contact... , the complexion of the mistress of the Palace Hall had become a little more alluring than before.

Seeing that the two of them had reconciled, Yun chujiu was naturally very happy, but the little pervert's heart was a little sour. What the hell, when would she be able to eat the Pretty Boy? Could it be that if the strange grass in her Dantian was not removed, her sunflower water would not come?

Forget about the guai Cao!

That fellow Yun Chujiu, had to scold it at least a few hundred times every day. The guai Cao had no choice but to spend money to buy some peace and provide a drop of liquid to stimulate the growth of the medicinal herbs. Only then did Yun chujiu stop nagging.

On this day, Di Linhan held up two invitation cards and said: "Gui Yuan sect and Yin clan have jointly sent over an invitation card. Five days later, Qin Mingzhu and Yin Xuecheng's engagement ceremony will be held. They have invited me and Bei Ming to attend the ceremony."

The wife of the palace lord frowned: "Husband, you can go alone, right? Does bei Ming still need to go?"

"It has specifically stated that both me and Bei Ming are invited. Furthermore, Qin Mingzhu is the pearl in Qin Yixiao's palm. Although Qin Xuecheng's father is the second elder of the Yin clan, his status is not low. The engagement ceremony between the two of them should be of a higher standard." Di Linhan explained.

"Father, if we both leave the Palace of Immortals, wouldn't the situation be the same as the last time? What if the Hall of the Netherworld attacks? I'd better not go," di beiming said with a frown.

Di Linhan also felt that it was not very safe for the two of them to leave. "That's fine. When the time comes, I'll just find an excuse to say it. Since that's the case, I'll set off for the Gui Yuan sect tomorrow. Bei Ming will stay in the Palace of Immortals."

The next day, Di Linhan brought dozens of secret guards to Gui Yuan sect.

Once di Linhan left, di beiming had a lot of things to deal with. Hence, Yun chujiu was like a wild horse that had run out of control and no one cared about her anymore

Yun chujiu counted with her fingers. There were only about ten days left until the start of school. How did the holidays pass so quickly. ! This fellow quickly ran to the kitchen and asked Steward Li to prepare the food that she wanted to take away.

After instructing Steward Li, this fellow decided to pick some spirit fruits for her to eat back at Tian Yuan Academy. When she was almost done picking, Yun Chujiu recalled the incident where she fell into the forbidden area for the sake of picking the seven star fruit, she ran to the vicinity of the forbidden area to pick the seven star fruit.
