

The Yun Family's Ninth Child is an Imp! Chapter 1671

Then, the other girls and guards stepped onto the round platform and were teleported into the asura array. Only Yun Chujiu and you chi were left.

“You guys should hurry up and go up as well!”Zheng Mama said.

Yun chujiu nodded and climbed onto the round platform with You Chi.

Zheng mama was about to leave when she realized something was wrong. Why were the two people on the round platform still there? Why weren't they teleported into the asura array?

Could it be that there was a problem with the teleportation array?

That shouldn't be the case. The previous 43 pairs had been successfully teleported, so why was Lin Chuchu's pair not working? Perhaps their reaction was a little slow? Let's Wait a little longer!

Fifteen minutes passed, and the two of them were still standing on the round platform.

An hour passed, and the two of them were still on the round platform. However, one of the goods was already sitting on the ground.

Two hours later, the two of them were still on the round table, and one of them was already lying there basking in the sun!

Zheng mama could only shout, "You two come down first, I'll go find someone to take a look."

"Zheng Mama, don't be so troublesome. Since we haven't been teleported in, this means that God doesn't want us to suffer. Just let us pass," Yun Chujiu stood up and said with a smile.

"Well, I'll report this to the higher-ups and let them decide. You guys come down first..."

Before Zheng Mama finished her words, the round platform emitted a dazzling light. When Zheng Mama regained her sight, you chi and Yun Chujiu were already gone from the round platform.

Zheng Mama was shocked. The light from the people who were teleported in the past was not so dazzling. Why was Lin Chuchu's light so dazzling? would there be any problems? Fortunately, Lin Chujiu was an orphan. Even if there was an accident, she would not be in any trouble.

At this moment, Yun Chujiu's heart was like a dog that was bickering. F * ck, it must be Tian Dao or something else. Otherwise, why would there be a problem when it was her time?

She was the same. She had to go down first before she said those words. That thing must have heard her words and thought that it was letting her off easy, so it changed its mind again. That was why it brought her and you chi into this damn place!

Yun Chujiu and You Chi were currently in a swamp. The two of them were sinking rapidly. The mud had already reached their chests and chests. In less than 15 minutes, the two of them would be completely trapped in the swamp.

You Chi had once wanted to leap out, but unfortunately, he discovered that the slightest bit of force would cause them to sink even faster.

You Chi summoned his treasured sword and wanted to ride it. Then, he let the treasured sword carry him into the air. He did not expect that the treasured sword would sink into the mud when it was only a few feet away from the swamp. It was probably forbidden to fly in this place.

Could it be that they could only die like this?

Yun Chujiu had a premonition that even if they were to die and come back to life, the two of them would still be in this kind of situation. Damn it, that thing was simply too damaged!

However, wanting to kill her like this? Dream On!

Yun chujiu took out two large wooden boards from her storage ring. The two of them spent a lot of effort to climb up.

You Chi thought that he was dead for sure, but he did not expect to escape death. As he looked around, he said, "Miss Chujiu, it's all thanks to you that you have these two wooden boards. However, why do you still have these things in your storage ring?"

"I picked them up casually." Yun chujiu touched her nose. This was all thanks to the pretty boy. He was lacking in the five elements, so I only prepared a few wooden boards..

Although there were wooden boards that could temporarily ensure that the two of them would not sink, they could only lie on them. If they moved slightly more, the wooden boards would tilt, and they might sink into the swamp again.

At this moment, the swamp in the distance began to roll, and a huge demon beast quickly swam towards the two of them..
