

The Yun Family's Ninth Child is an Imp! Chapter 1797

Although Yun Chujiu did not understand what the golden-winged vermillion-beaked eagle and small eagle were talking about, when she saw the golden-winged vermillion-beaked eagle take care of small eagle, she knew that her plot had succeeded.

HMPH!

A stupid bird fighting with me? Looking for trouble!

The golden-winged vermillion-beaked eagle took care of small eagle for a while. Small Eagle drooped its head and did not say anything. In its heart, it hated Yun Chujiu to death.

The golden-winged vermillion beak eagle only scared the small eagle. At night, it still fed it half a sheep. However, it warned it that if it lied again, it would starve it.

The next morning, the golden-winged Vermillion Beak Eagle went out to look for prey again. Only Yun Chujiu and the small eagle were left in the nest.

Yun chujiu held the embroidery needle in her hand and waved it at the small eagle. "Little Thing, your performance yesterday was really bad! You did not say what I asked you to say. Then don't blame me for being rude!"

Yun chujiu insidiously stabbed the small eagle a few more times. This fellow specialized in picking places with a lot of fur. The pain made the small eagle cry out in pain.

“Little Thing, if you still don’t say it today, I will stab you ten more times tomorrow. The pain will kill you!”Yun Chujiu said insidiously.

The small eagle was about to explode in anger. When the golden-winged vermillion-beaked eagle returned, it naturally began to complain again.

The process was exactly the same as the previous day. The golden-winged vermillion-beak eagle did not find anything wrong after checking. It beat the small eagle again, and it really starved the small eagle.

Yun chujiu took advantage of the golden-winged vermillion-beak eagle’s carelessness to make a face at the small eagle. The small eagle almost fainted from anger.

boxn ov el. c o m

On the third day, in order to not be destroyed, the small eagle became timid.

However, it made up its mind. When it learned how to walk, the first thing it would do was to eat that insidious human.

When the golden-winged vermillion-beaked eagle came back from hunting, the small eagle followed Yun Chujiu's instructions and said, "Mother, you have worked hard!"

The golden-winged vermillion-beaked eagle was stunned at first, then it hugged the small eagle with its wings and cried out. There was joy, relief, and a little sadness in its voice.

The small eagle did not expect its mother to have such a big reaction after just one sentence. It was stunned for a moment.

Yun chujiu saw that the golden-winged vermillion-beaked eagle was so excited and knew that the small eagle had said what she had taught it. She let out a sigh of relief in her heart. With this sentence, at least her little life could be saved temporarily.

The next day, when the golden-winged vermillion-beaked eagle went out to hunt again, Yun Chujiu said to the small eagle indifferently, "Little Thing, do you want to know why your mother is so excited?"

Although the small eagle hated Yun Chujiu to death, it wanted to know the reason more, so it nodded.

"Because your mother feels that her efforts have paid off. Your care made it feel that everything was worth it! "Little Thing, I really envy you. I don't even know who my mother is, let alone where she is!”Yun chujiu sighed and said, her eyes were slightly red. Whether it was in her previous life or this life, she had never met her biological parents.

Small Eagle saw that the evil person was even more pitiful than it, and the resentment in its heart lessened a little.

“Little Thing, if you want to make your mother happy, then listen to me. I promise to make your mother happy every day.”Yun chujiu began to reveal her fox tail.

The simple and stupid small eagle was indeed fooled. It called out arrogantly a few times. If it could make her mother happy, it was fine to listen to this evil person for the time being.

Thus, Yun Chujiu began to teach birds.

Her teaching was very simple. It was nothing more than to make the small eagle care about the golden-winged vermillion-beaked eagle every day, and then often express its determination to become stronger.

As a mother, she only cared about these two things. Therefore, the golden-winged vermillion-beaked eagle was very, very satisfied with Yun Chujiu. It felt that it was no wonder that this human little girl was chosen by Tian Dao. She really had real talent.