

The Yun Family's Ninth Child is an Imp! Chapter 1842

Madam Luo tried her best to suppress her anger and said with a slightly stiff expression, "Fangcao, it's getting late. Let's go back to the residence!"

Yun chujiu nodded and greeted the few shopkeepers and the onlookers warmly before following madam Luo into the Mo residence.

Madam Luo was anxious to know what had happened, so she said to Mo fangqin, "Fangqin, bring your eldest sister to her courtyard! Dong Qing, Xia Ye, you will be the eldest miss's handmaidens from now on. Don't neglect her!"

Mo fangqin nodded. "Yes, mother!"

"Eldest sister, come with me! Mother has specially arranged for you to stay in Qingyu Pavilion. The decorations inside are very unique. You will definitely like it." Mo fangqin said to Yun Chujiu affectionately.

Yun chujiu clapped her hands and said happily, "Then thank you, second aunt! Third sister, let's Go! I Can't wait to see my courtyard."

Mo Fangqin agreed, but in her heart, she was very disdainful. What a country bumpkin! However, this guy was really audacious. Not only did he dare to blow up the mansion, he even spent more than 20 million high-grade spirit stones. He was really courting death! Her mother actually didn't punish this country bumpkin. She didn't know what her father and mother wanted to do with her..

After Yun Chujiu and Mo fangqin left, manager Xia fell to his knees. "Madam! This servant is guilty! This servant deserves to die!"

Madam Luo kicked manager Xia, "You Trash! Can't you stop her from buying things? You just let her blow up the mansion? Are You a dead person? !"

Madam Luo was furious. Compared to the mansion being blown up, she was more pained by the eighteen million high-grade spirit stones.

"Madam, this servant deserves to die!"! It wasn't that this servant didn't want to stop her, but this country bumpkin was really unconventional. Before this servant could react, she had already pierced through the sky!"Manager Xia rolled and crawled back to his knees, he said with a sobbing voice.

Madam Luo snorted coldly, "What nonsense! She's just a little girl from a lower continent. What ability does she have? "You can be considered an old man by my side. It's because I trust you that I've entrusted such an important matter to you. Yet, you've created such a huge Mess for me! "If husband didn't trust me, do you think that I would still be able to protect you? ! The manor door has been blown up by someone. Those few families might laugh at us!"

Manager Xia said with Snot and tears, “Madam, this servant understands my mistake! This servant will definitely learn a lesson next time and won’t make such a mistake again.”

Madam Luo took a deep breath. “Get Up!”! At such an old age, how could he still be crying like this! Even though you made some mistakes, it was still a great achievement that you managed to bring her back. Tell me, what exactly happened?”

When manager Xia heard what Mrs. Luo said, she heaved a sigh of relief. She knew that she had passed this hurdle. She did not dare to mention the three million high-grade spirit stones that she had paid. She could only accept the fact that she was unlucky.

Manager Xia stood up and told Madam Luo everything that had happened, then, she said, “Madam, this country bumpkin doesn’t seem to care about her adoptive parents. Moreover, when she heard that she was coming to the immortal Yuan continent, she agreed to come with this servant without the slightest hesitation. Therefore, this servant feels that she is a vain, greedy, and cowardly trash.”

Madam Luo nodded. “If that’s the case, then that country bumpkin must be crazy about shopping and blowing up the mansion just to please us. Since that’s the case, this country bumpkin won’t be able to make any waves.”
