

The Yun Family's Ninth Child is an Imp! Chapter 1984

Shopkeeper Pei looked up and saw that it was Yun chujiu who had spoken. His nose turned sour and his eyes turned red.

Yun chujiu could not help but curse in her heart. This fat old man loved to shed tears too much!

Shopkeeper Zheng's face turned red from Yun Chujiu's rebuke. "Miss Fang Cao, anyone can say such big words. However, this is the truth! Our Luo's grocery store is flourishing, while your MO's grocery store, TSK TSK, is completely deserted!"

"HMPH!" "You're really short-sighted. Our moji grocery store is currently planning a reward activity. Right now, all the employees in the store are preparing for the reward activity, so we can't really take care of this business.". "Open your snobbish eyes and see which of our two families will have the last laugh."

After Yun Chujiu finished speaking, she brought shopkeeper Pei into the grocery store.

Shopkeeper zheng spat, "Bah! You're really boasting! You can make money by relying on groceries? That's hilarious! If the groceries can make money, the sun will rise from the north."

Seeing that there was no more fun to watch, the people who were watching dispersed. However, they were very curious about what kind of activities yun chujiu was talking about. What kind of activities did this Mo's grocery store have?

“Miss Fang Cao, I bought the groceries and chili noodles according to your instructions. Do you want to count them?” Shopkeeper Pei calmed himself down and said.

“There’s no need to do an inventory. Give me a few sacks of chili noodles and I’ll keep them for a rainy day. As for the Spirit Stones, you can deduct them from the money I gave you.”

Shopkeeper Pei could not help but look at Yun Chujiu in a new light. He thought that Yun chujiu would take the chili noodles for free.

It was not that the chili noodles were worth much, but that this kind of example made shopkeeper Pei have more confidence in Yun Chujiu.

“Miss FANGCAO, what do we need to do next? What kind of activities do you want to hold? Is it a price reduction or a gift?” Shopkeeper Pei asked in confusion, in the immortal Yuan continent, most of the activities were to reduce the price or give away some worthless trinkets.

Yun chujiu shook her head, “Those activities are too common. Our Mo’s grocery store is going to hold an event that will shake the entire western continent!”

“Big Sister, don’t keep us guessing! What kind of activity is it?” Mo Fangqin was about to go crazy from anxiety. After talking for a long time, what kind of reward activity was it?

Yun chujiu smiled and spat out two words. “A lottery!”

A lottery?

Mo Fangqin and the others were dumbfounded and confused. They had never heard of this term. What did it mean?

Yun chujiu slapped her thigh. The term ‘Lucky Draw’ was unfamiliar to them, so she explained, “It’s just drawing lots. It’s a stroke of good luck! Come, let me explain the rules of the lucky draw to you...”

After listening to Yun Chujiu’s explanation, everyone still felt that this matter was a little unreliable. “Big Sister, what you said is exaggerated, but would anyone come to buy things for an uncertain prize?”

“Third sister, greed is human nature. Don’t worry, this reward activity will definitely be popular throughout the entire western continent!” “However, this thing is just a layer of window paper. If we make it first, we will earn a lot of money. Those who follow the trend will not have such a good effect!” Yun chujiu said confidently.

“Elder sister, if it is really as popular as you said, then the things in the grocery store are not enough to sell! When the time comes, will we go to Buy More?”

Yun chujiu smiled mysteriously. “These things are enough. I still have a good way to get the White Wolf for free.”
