

The Yun Family's Ninth Child is an Imp! Chapter 2266

Yun Chujiu had a whole new level of respect for this teacher Dong. She was so angry that she almost wanted to slap him. He was actually able to finish his lecture. If he wasn't too snobbish, he could be considered a pretty good teacher.

The second lesson was alchemy.

Because of the experience from the DAO Talisman Lesson, Yun Chujiu had already mentally prepared herself. She reckoned that this alchemy lesson was also a pile of theoretical foundations.

As expected, instructor Jin, who was teaching the alchemy class, said the same thing as instructor Lu, who was teaching the talisman class. It was basically saying that they would wait until the second grade to officially choose the alchemy class to teach the specific alchemy methods, the first grade only roughly explained some of the characteristics of the pills, their tastes, and so on.

Although Yun Chujiu was a little disappointed, she still listened to instructor Jin's explanation very seriously. Sharpening a knife did not delay chopping wood. It was also good to learn some theoretical knowledge.

Yun chujiu and the other two were now famous people in Xingtian Academy. Naturally, teacher Jin had heard of them. Seeing that the three of them were listening to the lecture very seriously, he thought to himself, this rumor is indeed not believable. These three children seem to be pretty good.

During the lecture, teacher Jin also asked Yun chujiu a question. Seeing that Yun Chujiu's answer was very exquisite, he asked in surprise, "Mo Fangcao, have you studied alchemy before? What level are you currently an Alchemist?"

Yun Chujiu recalled that she had once told the great elder that she had yet to learn how to refine a level 11 adversity pill. The great elder would probably tell Mo fangbing., therefore, she said, "I am A Level 10 alchemist. Currently, I am practicing the refinement of a level 11 pill."

"What? A Level 10 alchemist?"Teacher Jin suddenly raised his voice. She was already a level 10 alchemist at such a young age? This aptitude could be said to be quite good!

The students of the Star class were also somewhat surprised. They didn't expect that this Mo Fang grass actually had the specialty of alchemy. Although a grade-10 alchemist could at most be considered average, she was still young, so her alchemy aptitude could be considered quite good.

Of course, there were also some people who felt that Yun Chujiu was boasting. With just a trash from a low-grade continent like her, how could she be able to refine a grade-10 pill? She was definitely lying.

Teacher Jin was also somewhat skeptical. However, he was much more cultured than teacher Dong. Although he had some doubts in his heart, he didn't reveal it. He even praised Yun chujiu a few times.

In any case, whether or not this Mo Fangcao was a grade-10 alchemist would be revealed sooner or later.

However, during the next question, teacher Jin intentionally asked Yun Chujiu twice. Each time, Yun Chujiu's answers were not only accurate, but she also had her own opinions.

Instructor Jin was increasingly convinced that this Mo Fangcao was not lying and that she had quite the talent to refine pills.

Yun chujiu had revealed a little bit of her edge, so she naturally had a motive.

boxn ov el. c o m

She had promised the great elder to help her find a level 20 seven transformation life creation pill. If she wanted to obtain the pill, there were only two ways. One was for her to refine it herself, and the other was for someone else to help her refine it.

Compared to finding someone to help her, she was more inclined to refine it herself. If she followed the normal curriculum of Xingtian Academy, it would probably take a long time before she could improve her pill refinement level.

Therefore, she wanted to attract teacher Jin's attention and then think of a way to eat a small meal to quickly improve her pill refinement level.

Yun Chujiu's strategy was obviously successful. In the first class, teacher Jin had a good impression of Yun Chujiu. Yun Chujiu believed that she would definitely become teacher Jin's favorite disciple in the future.

After the lesson, Yun Chujiu and the other two went to the cafeteria to have lunch.

"Little Jiu, don't forget to look for teacher Du," Jin Zhi reminded her.

"I'll remember it! After I wake up and take a nap, I'll go see teacher Du." Yun chujiu put down her bowl and chopsticks and stretched.