

The Yun Family's Ninth Child is an Imp! Chapter 2270

While teacher Du was in a daze, Yun Chujiu finally cut off the beehive as she wished. She put it into her storage ring naturally and continued to cut the beehive.

The servant ran over while panting. He was also stunned when he saw that Yun Chujiu was safe and sound. This little girl was really lucky. How could she be safe and sound?

Teacher du finally came back to his senses. When he saw that Yun chujiu was still persistently cutting the beehive, he angrily said, "Stop! Didn't you already cut off a piece of it?"

Yun chujiu blinked her eyes, she said with a grievance, "Teacher Du, I'm cutting it for you. You've worked hard to take care of the beehive. It's only right for you to taste some honey. Moreover, you can also check if there are any changes in the quality of the honey."

Teacher du choked. Although he didn't agree with her behavior, he was still a little touched, he softened his tone and said, "There's no need to cut such a big piece to check the quality of the honey. Besides, it's okay to cut the edge of the hive. "If you cut the hive inside, the queen will be angry. Be careful that it doesn't Sting you again, and then you'll have to use poison."

Yun Chujiu said with a smile, "I have already made an agreement with the queen bee. It stung me once and felt very guilty, so it won't mind if I cut down two beehives." "Queen Bee, Tell Me, do you not mind at all? "If you agree, just scream."

Unlike the Bees in the secular world, the red-eyed venomous-tailed bees could make a sound. Hearing Yun Chujiu's words, the queen bee reluctantly cried out.

Teacher du and the servant could not help but click their tongues in wonder. The queen bee actually agreed to chop the beehive inside? This was too unbelievable!

One had to know that the part that Yun Chujiu chopped was the part with the most honey, and the queen bee usually protected it very tightly. Previously, a servant accidentally cut a little bit and was stabbed by the queen bee with a poisonous needle. Fortunately, the rescue was timely, and he managed to save his life.

While the two of them were in a daze, Yun Chujiu had already chopped off a large piece of the beehive. She broke off a piece and began to chew on it.

It was not in vain for her to pay the price of blood. The taste was indeed excellent!

The corner of teacher Du's eyes twitched. This little girl was good in every way, but she was too greedy!

"Teacher Du, you have a taste too. The taste of this honey is really good." Yun chujiu handed the beehive in her hand to teacher Du.

Teacher du shook his head. “Keep it for yourself. No matter what, it was my negligence that caused you to be injured. This beehive will be your compensation. Xu Dong, don’t tell anyone about what happened today, understand?”

The handyman named Xu Dong had received teacher Du’s favor, so he naturally agreed without hesitation.

Yun Chujiu’s eyes flashed. After putting the beehive into her storage ring, she said with a smile, “Uncle Xu, I was naughty today and caused you to be frightened. Take this little spirit stone as a token of my appreciation.”

As Yun Chujiu said that, she passed the five thousand high-grade spirit stones to the servant. The servant was shocked. This was too much!

“Uncle Xu, don’t decline. Only when you accept these spirit stones will I feel slightly better.” Yun Chujiu said with a smile.

The servant naturally understood that this was hush money. Seeing that teacher du didn’t say anything, he thanked him and accepted the spirit stones.

After cutting off a sufficient number of beehives, the handyman bade farewell and left.

Teacher du's expression immediately darkened, and he said unhappily, "Mo fangcao, there was a handyman present just now, so I can't say much. Do You Know Your Mistake?"
