

The Yun Family's Ninth Child is an Imp! Chapter 2502

The Swarm of bees had climbed over the mountain, and the monster had also climbed to the north of the mountain.

If the swarm of bees had retreated quickly, the monster would have stopped chasing them. However, the sky net poisonous bees would return after running a distance and continue to provoke them. The monster was completely enraged and chased after them relentlessly.

Yun Chujiu and the others were already hiding in the bushes. They were holding a few ropes in their hands. This was a new idea that Yun Chujiu had come up with.

Although the monster had many arms and legs, it relied on its four legs to move. As long as they could restrain its four legs first, they would be able to find a way to attack its eyes and arms and legs.

The ground began to tremble slightly. From Afar came the hissing sound of the monster. Everyone's heart was pounding nervously. The monster was here! Could they succeed?

The Swarm of bees gradually led the monster to the encirclement. The angry monster did not expect an ambush at all. It thought that Yun Chujiu and the others were still trapped in the cave.

The monster was tripped by several ropes. It wanted to stand up, but its four legs were entangled by several ropes.

At the same time, several ropes were tied to the monster's limbs.

The reason why Yun Chujiu did this was that she was afraid that the remaining monsters would notice the spiritual attacks. Since the spiritual attacks of the others were useless, she might as well use the most primitive and brutal method.

Although the monster was strong, it could still hold on for a while with dozens of people controlling one of its limbs.

Yun Chujiu took advantage of this short moment to raise the kitchen knife and cut at the monster's eyes. Although she did not know where the monster's vital point was, it was definitely right to blind its eyes first.

The large kitchen knife could even cut off its limbs, so it was not difficult to blind the monster's eyes.

As the monster screamed in pain, black juice flowed out of its eyes. Yun chujiu did not care about whether it was dirty or not, and cut the monster several times.

Initially, the monster was still struggling fiercely. However, when Yun Chujiu accidentally cut off a small protrusion on its head, the monster was like a deflated rubber ball. It turned into a flat piece of skin and collapsed on the ground. It died just like that.

Before everyone could recover from their shock, the monster that was originally lying on the ground had turned into a wisp of black fog and disappeared.

Everyone was stunned by the scene in front of them!

This was beyond their understanding. Shouldn't the monster be a corpse after it died? It was still acceptable for it to turn into a flat skin, but how did it turn into a black fog?

Yun Chujiu had a strong foreboding feeling. There was probably something more terrifying behind these monsters.

However, no matter what, everyone was still very happy that they had killed one monster. This was a good start.

Most importantly, they had found the vital point of the monster. As long as they cooperated well, they should be able to kill even two monsters at once.

Yun chujiu used the same trick again and let the bee swarm move out again.

As expected, another monster was tricked by the bee swarm and was lured into an ambush.

The process was the same as the previous one. Moreover, due to the team's better coordination, the monster was killed in less than fifteen minutes this time.

After the monster died, it first collapsed on the ground, then turned into a black fog and disappeared.

Yun Chujiu did not release the swarm of bees again. After using the same trick twice, she could not use it again. Because if she did not do it well, it would be self-defeating. She had to think of other ways.
