

The Yun Family's Ninth Child is an Imp! Chapter 255

"Notify everyone that they aren't allowed to go near Middle Peak's back mountain. Those who violate the sect rules will be punished! Also, notify the people from the Middle Peak's kitchen to immediately stay away from the back mountain! Also, strengthen the patrols around the sect to prevent other forces from probing!" After Master Xuanyuan thought it through, he immediately ordered, "Go!"

The disciples of Spirit Radiance Sect had also sensed an unusual aura. Even some of the disciples with low spiritual power felt a little breathless. What on Earth was going on?

If it was a cloudy day, why were there only such thick dark clouds gathered behind Middle Peak? Why was the sect forbidding them from approaching the back area?

Yun Chuwu and the others did not see Yun Chujiu. They ran to Yun Chujiu's dormitory to look for her. When they saw that she was not in her dormitory, they thought that she had gone to Elder Qi's place. Only then did they retreat to a safe area with ease.

After a quarter of an hour, several purple heavenly lightning bolts began to fall from the clouds!

One after another!

The booming sound was deafening!

It was the first time that everyone had seen such a marvelous scene!

"Interesting. Do you think that these heavenly lightning bolts are striking something?"

"It shouldn't be, right?! Even if a mighty figure ascends to the heavenly tribulation, there should only be nine heavenly lightning bolts, right? I think there has been more than thirty heavenly lightning bolts!"

With such a dense amount of heavenly lightning bolts, the back of the mountains probably has hold in it already!”

“Then what’s going on? Why would such a dense amount of heavenly lightning descend for no reason?”

“Who knows! Let’s just watch the show. No matter what happens, it has nothing to do with us little shrimps!”

Unlike the idle masses, Master Xuanyuan and the others were extremely worried.

Could Yun Chujiu withstand such a dense amount of heavenly lightning?

The purple heavenly lightning was comparable to the lightning of tribulation. If it was anyone else, they would not even be able to withstand seven bolts! What was more, a dozen bolts!

It seemed that the heavens had given up on killing Yun Chujiu, this heaven-defying existence!

Everyone could not help but sigh. Who would have thought that the most useless Yun Chujiu actually had the most heaven-defying heavenly lightning root spirit! However, would Yun Chujiu be able to survive?

At that moment, Yun Chujiu was like a rabbit being chased by a dog at the back of the mountain, constantly shuttling through the forest.

Those purple lightning bolts continuously struck the trees, and the low-level demon beasts there ran down the mountain like crazy.

Yun Chujiu dodged while cursing, “You damned little loaches, you’re destroying the ecological balance, do you understand? You’ve already cut down the trees! How are these little creatures going to survive in the future? You’re really heartless! I’m embarrassed for you! Shameless!”

“I’m talking about you guys! It’s fine if you chop me up for no reason, but why do you always come to gang up on me? If you have the ability, fight me one-on-one!”

“Do you think I’m afraid of you? I’ve eaten too much, so I’m just going to play with you guys! Since you’re rushing to your death, then come! I’ll wait for you!”

...

Yun Chujiu was a typical loser who could not lose. Even though she was hiding in an extremely sorry state, her mouth was not idle. She annoyed the dark clouds in the sky!

Strike! Strike with all your might!

The clouds will not disappear until the scourge was rid of!

An hour later, Yun Chujiu found that the forest had been hacked into charcoal, and she could not run anymore.

The dark clouds in the sky twisted a few times proudly, and the purple lightning struck down even more densely.

Yun Chujiu rolled her eyes. For now, she could only rely on the strange grass in her Dantian. It was not her time yet, so she could not choke on her farts.

Therefore, Yun Chujiu ran as she communicated with the strange grass in her Dantian.
