

The Yun Family's Ninth Child is an Imp! Chapter 2566

At this moment, on the huge square of the primordial chaos sect, several huge shadow stones were showing the candidates' test. There were fights, some crying and sad, and some giving up. Only a few people were calm and collected.

Many people wearing the uniform of the primordial chaos sect were holding melon seeds in their hands and sitting on small stools. They watched and pointed at the candidates while laughing at them.

Every time the primordial chaos sect's entrance test was held, it was a carnival. At this time, whether it was the elders or the servants, they could all come and watch these people make a fool of themselves.

It was as if this way, they could calm down the 10,000 points of damage that they had received during the entrance test.

As it was the first round of the test, some heavyweights did not come. However, this did not prevent the delicious taste of the entire sect's entertainment feast.

It was as if the ten years of waiting for this day had been for this day. The entire primordial chaos sect was filled with laughter.

They did not feel embarrassed at all. After all, they had all been toyed with like this. In any case, those participants had all voluntarily signed up. It was not like they had forced them with knives. Therefore, they could only admit that they were unlucky!

“Look, those people are fighting to the death. Do they think that they are the winners after killing everyone? They are really stupid. Would the primordial chaos sect want to harm their fellow sect members?”

“That’s right, they are so stupid! And those who cry for the Sky and cry for tears. If crying can solve the problem, the immortal essence continent will be full of people long ago!”

Everyone felt that this batch of examinees this year was really stupid. Only a very small number of people were still calm. It was likely that 80% of the candidates would be eliminated in the first round.

At the beginning, everyone was still in high spirits. Later, they became a little tired of the aesthetics. Therefore, some people reminded the disciples in charge of the test, “Hey, back then, we were attacked by Demon Beasts. Hurry up and release the Demon Beasts!”

“Oh right, we also experienced a great flood back then. Hurry up, I want to see how those girls fell into the water!”

The disciples in charge of controlling the array formation also felt that it was about time, so they began to control the array formation. Immediately, a flood suddenly appeared in the illusory realm, and the monstrous waves drowned the entire primordial chaos sect, only a few of the tallest mountains were exposed.

Immediately, a wave of miserable howls sounded. Although cultivators held their breath longer than ordinary people, it was impossible for them to survive in the water for long periods of time.

Therefore, everyone could only think of ways to survive. Basically, they were holding onto floating logs. There were also many people who were eyeing the exposed mountains.

Hence, the battle began once again.

Just as everyone was watching with great interest, they heard someone exclaim, "Hey, hey, quick, quick, look over here!"

When everyone heard this, many people's gazes were focused on the shadow stone number nine.

They saw a large ship amidst the monstrous flood. On the deck stood a little girl. They did not know what that little girl was gesturing about. Then, some people were dragged onto the large ship by her.

When the big ship couldn't fit anymore, she actually made another big ship, and then many people got on that ship.

When that ship couldn't fit anymore, she made another ship..

"F * ck! is that little girl's family a shipyard? Why are there so many ships? And what was she doing just now?"

Someone who could read lips said stiffly to the crowd, "She said she can get on the ship. Each person has 20,000 high-grade spirit stones. She doesn't cheat anyone, and she doesn't owe anyone anything!"

The crowd:"..."
