

The Yun Family's Ninth Child is an Imp! Chapter 2595

Everyone was busy mining the ores when they suddenly felt that the weather was extremely hot.

They looked up and almost died from anger!

They saw three suns in the sky!

Were they planning to roast them into jerky? !

Yun Chujiu and the other three did not mind. It would be better if they were hotter! It would be good for them to catch up with the progress.

Everyone was suffering terribly. They had to mine while they had to endure the heat. They really wanted to die!

After the people from the chaos origin sect saw this, they had recovered from the shock of Yun Chujiu. These rookies should be in such a sorry state. Otherwise, it would appear that they were useless in the past!

However, when they saw the situation on the No. 9 Shadow Stone, they immediately felt stifled!

They saw that the little girl dug a hole in the mine, and some clear water flowed down from it from time to time. Beside it, she even wrote three crooked words with cinnabar — water curtain cave!

Through the water curtain, they could see that the girl was chewing on the spirit fruit while reading her story book. She was very carefree!

Some people snorted coldly and said, “I think that Yun Chujiu knew that no matter how she dug, she would be eliminated, so she just gave up!”

“That makes sense. She has already given up! The other three are also much slower than the others, so they will definitely be eliminated.”

Elder Yuwen could not help but feel a little anxious. This little girl seemed to be quite smart, but why was she being silly now? You should just mine, shouldn't you mine less and less?

Everyone was exposed to the sun for six days, and they all felt like they were about to turn into dried meat!

Suddenly, the weather became cool. When they looked up, they saw that the two extra suns in the sky had disappeared. Everyone could not help but rejoice.

Yun chujiu curled her lips. A bunch of idiots. According to the dark nature of the person who wrote the question, what followed was definitely a freezing weather.

Yun chujiu put away the water at the top of the cave, then called Xue Wuji and the other two into the cave. She also stuffed a few quilts at the entrance of the cave.

Xue Wuji and the other two were puzzled. "Little Jiu, what are you doing? Are you afraid that others will hear us?"

Yun chujiu pointed outside. "The weather will definitely change in a while. If you don't want to freeze into dogs, stay here with me. As for mining, we'll think of another way."

Xue Wuji and the other two were skeptical. They looked outside through the gaps in the quilts.

When the rest of the group saw the actions of Yun Chujiu and the other two, they burst into laughter. were the four of them stupid? It was not easy for them to cool down, but they actually hid in the hole and even used the blanket to block the hole. were they trying to hatch an egg inside?

Just as everyone was mocking them, the sky suddenly turned dark.

Looking Up, they saw that the sun was covered by thick dark clouds, and a northern wind was blowing.

In the blink of an eye, the temperature dropped drastically, and a strong wind mixed with snowflakes drifted down.

In less than fifteen minutes, the snow on the ground was already as deep as half a person. As Yun Chujiu had said, everyone was about to freeze into dogs!

Although they did not lack food and drinks in their storage rings, they did not have firewood, so they could not light a bonfire. They could only follow Yun Chujiu's example and dig out a mine to hide from the wind and snow.

At this moment, they had to admit that it was not Yun Chujiu's group of four who had a lump in their head, but them.

At this moment, a certain Jiu's mine was as warm as spring.

The Bonfire was burning fiercely. The four of them were happily eating a small hotpot. It was so comfortable!

Cough, cough. It was still a hotpot made by an alchemy furnace. The same formula, the same taste.
