

The Yun Family's Ninth Child is an Imp! Chapter 2645

Yun chujiu jumped up from the bed in shock and sent her spiritual sense into the spiritual beast bag.

She thought that Xiao Heiniao had been bullied by the little black bird and the others again, so she was very angry. These prodigals. Xiao Heiniao had suffered such serious injuries, but they still bullied it. They were really too insensible!

However, after sending her spiritual sense in, she found that it was not the case at all.

“Master, there’s something on my head. I’m most likely going to die!”The kitten cried.

Yun chujiu took a closer look and saw that there was a small horn growing out of the kitten’s head. It looked quite cute.

Yun Chujiu recalled for a moment. The fire-breathing cat did not seem to have horns on its head, and the Fire Eating Xiu did not have horns either. However, perhaps this was a good thing. It was possible that this near-death experience had triggered the kitten’s ancestral bloodline.

Yun Chujiu explained her guess, and the kitten immediately stopped whining. It seemed that most of the injuries on its body had healed! Ever since it became Yun Chujiu’s spiritual pet, it had felt a little inferior. It felt that it did not have the noble bloodline of Xiao Heiniao and Xiao Heiniao. Now that it heard that it had the possibility of awakening its ancestral bloodline, one could imagine the excitement in its heart.

After Yun chujiu comforted the kitten and withdrew her spiritual sense, Jin Zhi and ye Bingyu arrived.

Seeing that Yun Chujiu was safe and sound, the two of them did not ask any further questions. The three of them chatted for a while and then started to work.

Yun chujiu saw that the snow silkworms were still a little restless. However, after being threatened by Yun Chujiu once, they did not dare to attack the three of them.

Yun chujiu could not help but feel a little puzzled. These snow silkworms had food, drinks, and people to serve them. Why were they so agitated?

Yun Chujiu simply contracted a snow jade silkworm to ask for the reason. After learning the reason, Yun chujiu could not help but feel a little confused.

The reason why the snow jade silkworms were so agitated was because of their habits.

The snow jade silkworms were different from the silkworms of the secular world. After they formed a cocoon, they would not turn into pupae, nor would they turn into moths. After breaking out of the cocoon, they would still be in the form of silkworms.

The following period of time was very important for the snow jade silkworms, and that was to reproduce.

Then, there was a problem!

In the wild, the mating of snow jade silkworms was controlled by the silkworm king. The Silkworm King would choose the most suitable female silkworm to mate with and then allocate the remaining females to other male silkworms.

Due to the supreme authority of the silkworm king, the silkworms would not have any objections and the mating could proceed according to the schedule. However, ever since these snow jade silkworms were tamed, there was no silkworm king among them. Therefore, every mating period was a bloodbath.

Male silkworms would bite each other in order to compete for the right to mate. By the time the winner was decided, more than half of the mating period had passed. Therefore, only a few females would become pregnant in the end.

Yun chujiu finally understood why elder Jiang had said that there would be dozens of new silkworms. So that was the reason.

Yun Chujiu touched her chin. Wouldn't it be easier without the king of Silkworms? ! She would just be the king of Silkworms? When the mating period came, she would pair them up. Let's see which one of them would dare to resist? ! !

When the snow jade silkworms heard Yun Chujiu's words, their anxiety was swept away, and they began to eat in peace, waiting for their cocoons to form.

A month passed in the blink of an eye. During this time, elder Jiang and the other two came to check on the silkworms. When they saw that the snow jade silkworms were being fed until they were chubby, they were very satisfied. They didn't take the unhappiness from before to heart.

Before the three of them left, Yun Chujiu said with a smile, "Elders, please wait. I have something to report."
