

The Yun Family's Ninth Child is an Imp! Chapter 2665

Elder Ding rubbed his hands excitedly. "You Little Girl, you're really smart! Go To the Mulberry Garden and work first. I'll report this to the peak master."

Yun chujiu nodded and left elder Ding's courtyard with Jin Zhi and ye Bingyu.

Of course, this guy wasn't giving elder Ding advice out of kindness. This guy had his own tricks.

It would be best if Tianji Peak had mulberry gardens on the other six peaks. In that case, all the peaks would have to protect her, the Snow Jade Silkworm Elder? When the time came, even if she caused some trouble, she would have someone to speak up for her, right? !

Soon, the mating period of the snow jade silkworm ended, and the breeding of the little silkworms was very successful. Elder Ding also fulfilled his promise and gave each of the three people a snow jade silkworm silk.

A certain jiu thought that she should find someone to beat up. Who should she beat up?

Therefore, this guy started to cheat all the members of the primordial chaos sect.

It was a pity that no one dared to provoke Yun chujiu, not knowing if it was because Yun Chujiu's performance last time was too fierce or because of Tianji Peak.

A certain Jiu was depressed. Why was it so hard to cheat? !

She had no choice but to open the encyclopedia of affairs of the Primordial Chaos sect and read through the items one by one, trying to find the appropriate items. Finally, she found one of the items, and her eyes lit up.

The 20th rule of the sect was: trespass into a forbidden area. According to the severity of the plot, if the plot is light, the offender will be punished with meditation, and if the plot is serious, the offender will be expelled from the primordial chaos sect.

A certain Jiu touched her chin. This was good. As long as she knew the rules, she would be able to enter the meditation cave as she wished. This was it!

However, there were several forbidden areas in the primordial chaos sect. Where should she go?

Forget it, she could just find one. Even if there were disciples guarding it, she might not be able to enter.

Thus, on a dark and windy night one month later, a certain jiu sneaked to the back mountain of Yuheng Peak. After avoiding a few patrolling disciples, she saw the words "Forbidden area" that were as red as blood as she wished.

A certain Jiu dashed into the forbidden area at lightning speed. She thought that something strange would happen when she arrived at the so-called forbidden area, such as where she would be teleported to, or maybe there was a room inside. Who could tell her why this barren land was called a forbidden area?

She guessed that the patrolling disciples would come back soon. She had just barged in and didn't do anything. At most, she would be punished to the meditation cave of No. 5 or No. 6. She would have to do something.

However, this place was bare. How could she cause trouble?

This fellow scratched his ears and cheeks as he spun a few times. Got It!

This fellow took out a stack of sudden rupture talismans and threw them into the distance. He thought to himself with delight. Such a huge commotion and this should be considered as destroying the forbidden area. He could definitely be punished severely. He was really smart!

This fellow was elated for only a few seconds before tragedy struck!

Following several loud bangs, the entire forbidden area began to sink. Troublemaker Jiu wanted to run away, but sadly discovered that she was unable to move at all. It was as if she was trapped in her original spot.

Heavens, she finally understood what it meant to seek death by playing tricks. She was one! Was it too late to regret now?

Amidst the flying dust, the miserable a certain Jiu was regretting when she discovered that she was slowly rising up.

A certain Jiu looked down in disbelief and saw a spire rising up from the bottom of her butt.

A certain jiu: "..."

F * ck!

Did she accidentally trigger some mechanism or remove some seal?

The most important thing now was, how was she going to leave this damned spire? She didn't want to be the mascot of this spire!
