

The Yun Family's Ninth Child is an Imp! Chapter 289

'Damn! Why isn't there any reaction?!' Could it be that she was given a defective product?!

Yun Chujiu almost choked!

Which bastard was sabotaging her?! He actually gave her a useless jade token! 'When I get out, I will not let him off!'

However, it was not the time to be angry. It was better to think about what to do.

Crack, crack!

The flower was on the verge of breaking.

At that moment, Yun Chujiu was extremely thankful for her small, dry body. Otherwise, she would have fallen off if it had been more plump.

What should she do? The chopping board could not be used! The concealment talisman given to her by the gigolo could not be used either!

The defensive spirit tool could be used, but there were so many desert scorpions there. She was afraid that she would not be able to last until the end! She did not expect that such a beautiful genius like her would actually die there! This was really unreasonable!

Yun Chujiu used her spiritual sense to rummage through her storage ring. Her eyes lit up when she saw the scarlet silk.

Yun Chujiu tied a knot on the top of the scarlet silk. Then, she threw it onto the branch of the nearest cactus, pulled it tightly, and swung it over.

The moment Yun Chujiu left the flower, the stalk of the flower broke completely and fell into the group of scorpions.

The scorpions did not reject it and ate the flower.

Yun Chujiu could not help but wonder why these scorpions did not eat the cactus?

Just as Yun Chujiu was distracted, a few giant thorns on the cactus actually separated from its original body and shot toward Yun Chujiu.

Fortunately, Yun Chujiu had a defensive spirit tool on her body, which formed a spiritual energy barrier to block the giant thorns. Otherwise, she would have been pierced into a sieve.

Yun Chujiu finally understood why those scorpions did not eat the cactus. It turned out that when these cactuses were attacked, they would use the thorns to attack the enemy. Fortunately, she was teleported into the flower's heart. If she were to crash into the cactus...

Yun Chujiu convinced herself that the scene was too beautiful, so it was better not to think about it!

She carefully found a flower that looked relatively sturdy and sat inside the flower's heart.

For the time being, her life was no longer in danger. Yun Chujiu was drooling over the cactus fruit next to her!

Although the cactus flowers were huge, the fruit was only the size of two adult fists. It was red and emitted a sweet fragrance. However, there were also some tiny thorns on the fruits—they were probably used for defense.

Yun Chujiu threw the scarlet silk at the nearest fruit. As expected, the little thorns on the fruit shot toward the scarlet silk. Yun Chujiu deliberately waited for a while until the thorns on the fruit were gone, only then did she put away the scarlet silk.

Yun Chujiu looked at the fruit carefully. It was quite similar to the fire dragon fruit, but she was not sure if it tasted good or not.

Since there was a strange grass in her Dantian, she was not afraid of being poisoned to death. She peeled off the skin of the fruit and casually threw it on the ground. Then, she took a small bite.

‘Mmm, it’s delicious. Too delicious! It’s soft, sweet, and juicy!’

Yun Chujiu began to eat like a wolf.

After finishing her food, she was still not satisfied, so she brought back all the fruits that she could get from the surroundings and started to eat them happily.

Yun Chujiu could not eat anymore, so she put the rest into her storage ring.

After eating and drinking her fill, Yun Chujiu started to worry.

Staying in this flower heart was not a long-term solution! The flowers on this cactus might wither the next day. What should she do then?

These damn scorpions would not be watching her all the time, would they?! She was so skinny that she did not even have a couple taels of meat. Why would so many of them be watching her?!

Just as Yun Chujiu was frowning, she suddenly heard a commotion on the ground. Yun Chujiu stretched her neck and looked down curiously. Then, she was shocked!
