

The Yun Family's Ninth Child is an Imp! Chapter 2891

A certain jiu naturally wouldn't reject this gift that was delivered to her door. She hugged a certain jiu and made out with her.

After a period of intimacy, a certain Jiu had long forgotten about the matter of eloping. Her eyes were filled with deep affection and doting.

A certain jiu saw that the rain had passed and the sky was clear. She immediately began to show off.

This bastard brought out the little bastard. "Prince Charming, look. This is the little bastard that I obtained in the Sea of the ends of the Earth. I said that I didn't want it, but that big bastard insisted on giving it to me as a spirit pet."

Although the little bastard was still young, Spirit Beasts had a keen instinct for danger. When they felt the pressure and cold air from di beiming, they were so scared that their heads and tails even shrank into their shells.

Di beiming only glanced at it and snorted coldly. "What's the point of keeping such useless things? Just find a puddle and throw it away."

When the little bastard heard di Beiming's words, he was so scared that his turtle shell trembled.

Seeing this, Yun Chujiu hurriedly said, "Little Bastard, summon the turtle shell and let Prince Charming take a look."

The little bastard trembled as he summoned the turtle shell and then hid his head and tail inside.

When Di Beiming saw the turtle shell, he took a few more glances. "This turtle shell is not bad. Although it has not been refined by a weaponsmith, its defense is not bad. Where did this turtle shell come from?"

"The bastard said that this turtle shell belongs to the little bastard's mother. Is this turtle shell really not bad?" Yun Chujiu asked in surprise. To be able to make Di Beiming say that it was not bad, it should be really not bad.

Di Beiming nodded. "The little bastard's mother should not be the dragon head turtle of the wilderness. Instead, it looks like the dragon blood turtle of the wilderness that has the black tortoise bloodline. From the looks of it, this little bastard is not too useless. You can keep it for now!"

Hearing Di Beiming's words, Yun Chujiu immediately danced with joy and said smugly, "I knew that my luck wouldn't be so bad! Prince Charming, let me tell you, I even got half a spiritual stone mine!"

Di Beiming was stunned. "Half a spiritual stone mine? What's going on?"

“Don’t mention it!” “I met a human-faced octopus in the Sea of the world. After it self-detonated, I was rushed to the edge of the chessboard island. The old priest insisted that I was some heavenly lady, so I had no choice but to admit it. He even pretended that senior brother Shangguan and senior brother an were my husband...”

Boom!

The Stone Table and stone bench were instantly turned into dust, and the green stone slabs on the ground were completely destroyed! Even the three houses behind them were instantly reduced to rubble.

Fortunately, Yun Chujiu had activated the isolation array. Otherwise, such a huge commotion would have attracted many people.

Yun chujiu only realized later that she had said the wrong thing. Moreover, it was the kind of wrong words that could not be undone. She regretted it so much that her intestines were turning green!

Why did her IQ drop when she was in front of the gigolo?

Oh No! Oh No! The gigolo was definitely going to teach her a lesson!

“That, that Prince Charming, I just said it out of convenience at that time. It’s a matter of urgency! Don’t be rash, listen to me and I’ll explain it to you properly.” A certain Jiu was afraid that a certain jiu would kill two unlucky people in a fit of anger, she hugged a certain Jiu’s waist tightly and refused to let go.

A certain Jiu’s eyes were red with anger!

Now, it was no longer a matter of being jealous. A certain Jiu was now like a big firecracker that could explode at any time.

“Good! Very good! husband? Husband of both sizes? It seems that what you said wasn’t for nothing. So that’s what you were thinking in your heart.

“I came to see you day and night. First, you acted out an elopement act for me, and now you’ve brought me husbands of all ages. You Black Thing, you’ve really disappointed me!”

At the end of his speech, there was a slight tremble in his voice. It was unknown whether he was angry or sad.
