

The Yun Family's Ninth Child is an Imp! Chapter 296

Yun Chujiu felt that the strange grass in her Dantian was like a ticking time bomb. Sooner or later, it would kill her.

If she did not get it out, sooner or later, she would become its nourishment.

However, if she got rid of it, perhaps she would become a mummy!

It was a dead end no matter how she thought about it!

Even the gigolo could not find the origin of this strange grass. Could it be that she could only wait for death?

Fortunately, Yun Chujiu was an optimistic and open-minded person. After a moment of melancholy, she pulled herself together. "Damn it! Even the heavenly lightning can't kill me! I'm not afraid of some grass! There will always be a way!"

Just as Yun Chujiu was cheering herself up, her stomach began to growl.

Yun Chujiu was laughing to herself!

Damn it! She had drunk so much water, yet she was still hungry! Where did all the water go?!

Yun Chujiu took out a large kitchen knife and cut some dried willows. She lit a bonfire, and it was finally warmer.

Then, she took out a table from her storage ring, placed the food on the table, and started to eat.

After eating and drinking, Yun Chujiu cut a few dried branches to build a simple tent. Then, she put the rolling pin on top of the tent.

“Stay alert at the top of the tent, Little Flame. Call me if there’s any movement.”

Yun Chujiu stuffed a few thick branches into the bonfire. Then, she put down a few thick blankets inside the tent and laid down.

Although she lit a bonfire and covered herself with a few layers of blankets, Yun Chujiu still felt chilly.

“Sigh, the gigolo’s clothes were turned to dust by the lightning last time. I’ll have to ask him for two more sets of clothes another day. Those clothes are cool and insulated. They’re much better than the ones I’m wearing!”

“Ahh, just mentioning the lightning makes my nose bleed!”

“Sooner or later, I’ll have to find a way to get rid of the strange grass. Otherwise, if I choke on my butt, won’t those coquettish b*tches benefit?!”

...

Yun Chujiu’s imagination ran wild for a while before she finally fell into a deep sleep.

As the single-horned demon lizard was very powerful, no demon beasts dared to step into the area. Therefore, Yun Chujiu slept very peacefully that night.

The next morning, Yun Chujiu was woken up by the heat.

The desert's climate was so strange! It was so cold at night, and so hot during the day!

Yun Chujiu could not help but sigh. The heat was even worse than the cold. If it was cold, she could build a fire and wear more clothes. However, if it was hot, there was nothing she could do! Unless she brought a pool with her at all times!

Huh? When she said that, Yun Chujiu's eyes lit up.

"Green foxtail! You made a big mistake yesterday. Shouldn't you show some gratitude to me?" Yun Chujiu said sourly when she saw that the leaves of the plant became even greener after it chewed on the aquatic plant.

The strange grass swayed like a happy little pug.

Yun Chujiu felt that this strange grass was quite cute sometimes.

Humph! No! This was just its sugar-coated shell. Under the shell of the strange grass was a scorpion-like heart! She must be on high alert!

"It's useless for you to act cute! Do something practical! It's so hot in the desert during the day! Bring out some of the water I drank yesterday and let me cool down!"

The strange grass curled up a few leaves and pressed them against the stem. It was as if someone was holding their chin in deep thought. Then, a shiny thing rolled down from one of the leaves.

Yun Chujiu felt a cool sensation on her body. She looked down and saw a small crystal bead in her palm. It was emitting cool air.
