

The Yun Family's Ninth Child is an Imp! Chapter 2997

No matter how the old woman listened, she felt that Yun Chujiu's words were strange. However, it was not easy to find such an ugly person. If her words were not pleasant to hear, then so be it.

"Grandma, my brother is strong and strong. Can you let him enter the palace as a guard? "Don't say that you can't make the decision. I can see that you are someone who can speak to the princess. Such a small matter is simply a small matter to you..."

The old woman was almost lost by Hei Xinjiu's words, so she brought buttface along with her.

Buttface was dumbfounded. He had thought that the little girl of Hei Xinjiu was just boasting. He didn't expect that he would become a guard of the imperial palace the moment he entered the city of Han?

This was even more mysterious than a dream!

Buttface's thoughts were quickly interrupted by the shrieks of a group of women. It turned out that the women had found out that the old woman was actually choosing palace maids. They pushed themselves toward the old woman without caring about their own safety:

"Grandma, choose me to enter the palace as well. As long as I can enter the palace, I can even be a rough palace maid washing clothes!"

“That’s right, grandma, the one you chose is too ugly! If you’re not careful, you might scare the lord. If I’m beautiful, then choose me!”

“Grandma, choose me! I Don’t want a monthly salary. As long as I can enter the palace and take a look at the Lord, I’ll die without any regrets!” Sheng Zun said

The old woman snorted, “You want to see the Lord? is the Lord Someone You Can See? Get out of the way! If you don’t get out of the way, you will be thrown into prison.”

Hearing the old woman’s words, the women all moved aside. However, their jealous eyes stabbed at Hei xinjiu like knives. This ugly freak was really lucky! She had actually been chosen to enter the palace. It was really unfair!

Hei Xinjiu curled her lips. She could roughly guess why the old woman had chosen her. It was because she was ugly! There was a high chance that the princess adored the Lord. With this ugly freak acting as a foil, she could become a fairy even if she looked ordinary!

Yun chujiu followed the old woman to the Nightmare Clan’s imperial palace. Along the way, Hei Xinjiu’s small mouth was as sweet as honey. She coaxed the old woman until her old face looked like a flower.

Buttface thought to himself, this little devil can literally talk a dead person alive. He was completely convinced!

The scale of the Imperial Palace of the Yan clan was huge. Moreover, it was obvious that it was not newly built. It was highly likely that it was left behind by the Yan clan's people in the past.

Yun chujiu followed the old woman to a palace. The plaque on it read — Forget Worry Palace.

Before entering the door, the old woman whispered, “When you see Princess Wang You in a while, be smart. Otherwise, I won't be able to protect you.”

“Nanny Qi, don't worry. I know what to do,” Hei Xinjiu said gratefully.

The old woman, who was also nanny Qi, sent a palace maid in to report to the princess.

Yun chujiu glanced around and found that the palace maids in Wang You Palace all looked very ordinary, which further confirmed her guess. She stood out because she was ugly.

A moment later, the palace maid signaled for the two of them to enter.

After Yun Chujiu entered, she caught a glimpse of a woman sitting on the main seat from the corner of her eye. She looked slightly better than the average person, but she was dressed exquisitely and beautifully. This was probably the princess Wang You that the old woman had mentioned.

Yun chujiu bowed to Princess Wang you according to the old woman's instructions, and then obediently stopped talking.

Princess Wang you sized up Yun Chujiu's appearance and nodded in satisfaction. "Nanny Qi, you did well. This palace maid fits my requirements very well. From now on, you shall be called Ru Hua. You may leave First!"
