

The Yun Family's Ninth Child is an Imp! Chapter 3194

Yun chujiu was shocked as soon as she entered the room. There were at least dozens of people in the room, but the Yun mansion was full of people.

There was an old couple sitting in the main seat. They looked like they were in their forties or fifties. It was probably because of their high spiritual power that they were able to retain their looks.

There were many people sitting on the left and right according to their status. Some young people could only stand at the back.

However, there was one similarity. Everyone's gaze fell on Yun Chujiu and Zhang Mama, who was swollen like a pig's head behind her.

Yun Chujiu's heart sank. Ye Lan was not among these people. Where was her mother?

The old man in the main seat frowned and did not say anything. The old princess beside him did not look too good and did not say anything.

In the midst of the silence, an earth-shattering scream shocked everyone so much that they almost sat on the ground.

"Grandfather, grandmother, Little Jiu is back! Sob, sob, you guys are exactly the same as little jiu in her dreams! Grandfather is valiant and wise, while grandmother is dignified and elegant. Could it be that this is the bond of blood? Sob, sob, little jiu is really too happy..."

The people in the room were all dumbfounded. Although they were cultivators and did not have the red tape of the secular world, high-class families also had a lot of rules. So., this was the first time they had seen such a "Bold and unruly" girl.

The Old Royal Highness and the Old Consort's faces stiffened for a moment. They clearly did not expect that this granddaughter who had just been found would do such a thing.

However, the two of them still enjoyed Hei Xinjiu's somewhat explicit praise. After all, no one had been so shameless as to flatter them.

The Old Royal Highness saw that Yun Chujiu was crying with tears in her eyes. He coughed and looked at the old consort beside him.

The old consort said with slight disdain, "Alright, it's good that you're back. Don't cry so unhappily."

Yun chujiu immediately stopped crying. Although there were still tears on her small face, her smile was very bright. "Grandmother is right. Today is a good day. Little Jiu must be happy."

Little Jiu pays her respects to grandfather and grandmother. Her granddaughter will be filial to grandfather and grandmother in the future. This is a little gift from her granddaughter to grandfather and grandmother. Although it's not worth much, it was personally made by her granddaughter. Grandfather and grandmother, please don't mind."

Yun Chujiu took out two pieces of clothes from her storage ring and asked a maid to pass them to the old Royal Highness and the Old Consort.

The old consort pouted. She didn't think that a little girl from a low-grade continent could give her anything good. However, this little girl did know how to cause trouble. She was much better than that ye Lan from before!

The old consort thought of ye Lan and her eyes immediately became a little unhappy.

The Old Princess Consort took a look at the fabric of the clothes. It was made of snow jade silk. She pursed her lips. Snow jade silk might be a good fabric in the immortal Yuan continent, but in the towering sky continent, it could only be considered to be of the middle class. With her status, she would not wear it.

However, when the old princess consort saw the exquisite embroidery and novel style on the clothes, her eyes immediately lit up. This style still looked quite unique. If it were to be replaced with a good black ice silk, it would definitely look very good.

The old consort glanced at the clothes in the old prince's hands again. The style was also very novel. It could be seen that the old prince also liked it very much.

At this moment, Yun Chujiu's small face revealed two blushes. "Grandfather, grandmother, Little Jiu knows that the materials used for these two clothes are not very good, but this is the best material that little jiu can bring out.

"However, if grandfather and grandmother like it, give little jiu some good materials. Little Jiu will help grandfather and grandmother make a few more. I guarantee that the styles will not be the same."
