

The Yun Family's Ninth Child is an Imp! Chapter 3195

The old imperial consort thought for a moment and said, "Ji Mama, bring her to the storeroom later to pick out a few good materials."

The old imperial consort paused for a moment and added, "Along the way, reward her with a few colors that are suitable for young ladies. After all, she is a lady from the Yun Imperial residence. It is really inappropriate for her to dress so poorly."

Yun Chujiu's small face immediately revealed a pleasantly surprised and grateful expression. "Thank you, grandmother! Grandmother, you are really too good to me! I will definitely be filial to you in the future."

The old imperial consort looked at Yun Chujiu's small face that resembled Ye Lan's and could not help but feel a little out of place in her heart. That Ye Lan was as stubborn as a rock. She did not expect that the daughter she gave birth to would be so obedient. It was really unexpected.

Yun chujiu raised her head and glanced at the old Royal Highness. She seemed to want to say something but hesitated. In the end, she bit her lips and said, "Grandfather, do you not like the clothes that little jiu made?"

The Old Royal Highness did not expect Yun chujiu to ask him so directly. His face stiffened and he said somewhat unnaturally, "I like it. Grandfather knows about your kind intentions."

"But, but grandmother has already given me the cloth. Why didn't you express it? Do you feel that the clothes that little jiu gave you are not valuable, so you are a little disgusted?" Yun Chujiu's eyes reddened, her eyes were filled with tears, as if as long as the old Royal Highness said that he was disgusted, she would cry out loud.

The Old Royal Highness immediately felt Numb!

He usually faced men, and his daughter and granddaughter were not close to him, so he had never seen such a scene before. In a moment of desperation., he casually took off a jade pendant from his waist. "Little Jiu, this jade pendant is for you, Don't cry."

Before the servant could receive the jade pendant., a small claw snatched the jade pendant away. "Thank you, grandfather! I knew that grandfather dotes on me the most! Grandfather, not only do I know how to make clothes, I also know how to grind ink. In the future, I'll help you grind ink!"

The old prince looked at his empty hands and suddenly felt that he had been tricked!

However, he did not hate this kind of coquettish behavior of the younger generation. Perhaps it was because he was old, but he felt that this kind of child was more straightforward. It had been a long time since the cloud imperial manor had seen such an innocent child.

A middle-aged man sitting at the bottom right frowned, a lady beside him immediately said with a smile, "Father, mother, I didn't expect that although Little Jiu grew up in the lower continent, she was lively without her parents by her side. She is really likable."

It was unknown what the lady's words touched, but the old Royal Highness and the old consort's faces immediately darkened. They did not look at Hei Xinjiu with a trace of kindness, but a bit of disgust instead.

Yun Chujiu looked at the lady who spoke, she said with a smile, "No one has introduced the people of the Yun Mansion to me before, so I only recognize the grandfather and grandmother I saw in my dream. I wonder which of Little Jiu's seven aunts and eight aunts you are?"

The lady's face stiffened for a moment, and a maid beside her quickly said, "Miss Jiu, this is your aunt, who is also the current Consort Yun. This is your uncle, who is also the current Royal Highness Yun."

Yun Chujiu looked at the maid in confusion. "Why don't you just say that they are my eldest uncle and eldest aunt? Do you have to emphasize that they are the current Lord Yun and Consort Yun?"
"Grandfather and grandmother are sitting up there. Isn't it inappropriate for you to say that?"

When the Old Lord and Consort Heard Yun Chujiu's words, their expressions indeed became a little ugly..
