

The Yun Family's Ninth Child is an Imp! Chapter 3313

Upon hearing Emperor Nan Xuan's words, the faces of the people from the East Phoenix Kingdom became a little embarrassed. This four nations grand meeting was like a scar on their hearts. Once it was opened, it would be covered in blood!

Every time they dealt with the people from the other three kingdoms, when the other party was at the end of their words, they would use the four nations grand meeting as an excuse. Unfortunately, their East Phoenix Kingdom didn't live up to their expectations. Every time, they would always get the last place. It was simply too embarrassing!

To be honest, they did not have much hope this time. After all, their female Emperor had just ascended the throne not long ago. It was impossible for her to change the current situation.

The other three nations all had their own trump cards. Only their East Phoenix Nation did not have any SH * t.

Originally, when war god Yun was around, the spirit power competition could still save some face. But now, they could only watch helplessly as the other three nations crushed their East Phoenix Nation.

Seeing that Yun Chujiu did not speak immediately, Emperor Nan Xuan could not help but feel proud in his heart. A little girl, did she really think that she was amazing? HMPH!

Right at this moment, Yun chujiu laughed lightly. "Your Majesty Nan Xuan must be joking. No matter how ugly the result is, it's only fourth place. How ugly can it be? Can it still make us fall to fifth place?"

Therefore, your Majesty Nan Xuan doesn't need to worry about our East Phoenix Country. When you have time, you'd better take care of your harem."

Emperor Nan Xuan's old face turned green with anger!

One should never hit a person in the face, and one should never talk about a person's shortcomings. This damn brat was simply mentioning the pot that was boiling!

His concubine had gotten together with the spies of the Xiwu Kingdom. It was simply a humiliation that Emperor Nan Xuan would never be able to wash off in his lifetime. Now that Hei Xinjiu had said it in front of everyone, Emperor Nan Xuan wished he could find a hole to hide in.

The people of the East Phoenix Kingdom felt extremely happy!

Their empress had said it beautifully! She said it so straightforwardly! To an old and shameless person like Emperor Nan Xuan, they should just kill him!

Emperor Xiwen felt very guilty. He was afraid that Emperor Nan Xuan would find trouble with him, so he quickly smoothed things over and said, "Your Majesty Nan Xuan, the time is almost up. Let's start the first round!"

Emperor Nan Xuan glared at him fiercely, but he still took the opportunity to say, "The four nations' grand meeting has officially begun. The host will announce the content of the competition."

Following emperor Nan Xuan's words, a middle-aged man jumped onto the stage and said a few words, then, he said, "The first round of the competition is an artifact refining competition. Each nation can only choose three participants. In the end, the corresponding points will be awarded according to the ranking. Now, let's invite the participants from each nation to come up to the stage."

The participants from the four countries stepped onto the stage one after another, the host continued, "Later on, you will be given the same materials. The time limit is six hours. You can perform as you wish. Finally, you will be ranked according to the grade and level of the refined spiritual artifacts. Now, the competition begins."

Very soon, the participants began to knock and hammer. At first, Empress Jiu was still pretending to be noble. Later on, she simply leaned back on the chair and lazily closed her eyes to rest.

Prime Minister Sima was so anxious that his forehead was covered in sweat. Your Majesty, this is not the throne room of our East Phoenix Country. What do you think of your behavior? Don't you feel embarrassed?

He wanted to remind Empress Jiu, but he was afraid that it would be too obvious, so he coughed a few times. Unfortunately, Empress Jiu was still the same as before, as if she didn't hear him.

Prime Minister Sima had no choice but to increase the volume of his coughing. Pitifully, Empress Jiu finally straightened her body and turned her head to Emperor Nan Xuan:

"Your Majesty Nan Xuan, since your Southern Dragon Country is the host country, there should at least be some tea, spirit fruits, and pastries in the VIP area, right? Didn't you hear our prime minister Sima coughing from his thirst? You guys are too stingy!"

Prime Minister Sima:" ..."

It was better to let him die first!
