

The Yun Family's Ninth Child is an Imp! Chapter 3322

The citizens of the four nations who were watching the show below also laughed out loud one after another. This all-win was simply a disgrace!

If the eyes of the citizens of the East Phoenix Kingdom could kill people, then all-win would have been turned into sieves by now!

The people of the East Phoenix Kingdom were simply about to die from anger!

Every time their East Phoenix Kingdom was in last place, it was also a disgrace, but it had never been this shameful before! This all-win was simply setting a new shameful record for their East Phoenix Country!

If you don't know how to refine pills, then just sit there and wait for the competition to end. Why must you be so embarrassed?

Do you think this is stir-frying? If it's bland, then add some salt, if it's sour, then add some sugar? This is simply nonsense!

No wonder there were vegetable leaves in front of her alchemy furnace. This little girl might just be a chef!

Soon, the aroma of medicinal herbs began to spread from the alchemy furnaces of the other competitors. Only the winner kept stuffing some medicinal herbs into the alchemy furnace. Everyone was too lazy to look at her. The result was obvious anyway, she could do whatever she wanted to do!

After a while, Qiu Anbang of the Nanxuan Kingdom raised his hand to signal, "I've completed the refinement."

Shao Yuan from Bei Xuan also raised his hand and said, "I'm done too."

At this moment, everyone raised their paws and said, "Host, I'm done too. Remember, I'm in third place!"

Everyone:"..."

Did you really think that you could come in third just because you said you were in third place? Shameless!

There was definitely a ball of medicinal liquid in her alchemy furnace. Perhaps there wasn't even any medicinal liquid in it. How could she say that she was done?

The host didn't say anything and recorded it truthfully. Then, the other contestants completed the competition one after another.

Now, it was the most exciting moment. The judges began to judge the final results of the contestants according to their participating numbers.

The judges first went to the front of Qiu Anbang's operating table and opened the lid of the alchemy furnace. When they saw the medicinal pills inside, everyone nodded in admiration, then, the host announced loudly, "The success rate of Qiu Anbang of the Southern Dragon Kingdom is 80% , six high-grade pills, two middle-grade pills, and 36 points."

The spectators immediately cried out in surprise. Not only was the success rate of the pills so high, but six of them were high-grade pills. This was too amazing!

Qiu Anbang was very proud in his heart. If not for that all-win troublemaker, there might have been seven high-grade pills. But even so, the first place in the alchemy competition would belong to him!

As expected, the results announced after that were not as high as Qiu Anbang's. The results of the two old men from the East Phoenix country were both in the middle range, which was considered pretty good.

Now, only number 12 had won all of them. Although the judges felt that it was meaningless to watch or not to watch, they couldn't break the rules. So one of the judges casually lifted the lid of the alchemy furnace, then, there was no "Then"!

That judge first opened his mouth wide, and then fainted with a choking sound!

The spectators below immediately became excited!

"Emma! Not Good! That all-win actually turned the eight transformation life creation pill into poison! It actually poisoned the judge!"

"I told you, she couldn't just randomly stuff medicinal herbs into it, right? Now, the pill that was supposed to save people has turned into a harmful pill!"

..

Prime Minister Sima's head was buzzing. It was over! Someone had died!

Other contestants needed points to refine pills, but those who won all the pill refining battles were going to die!
