

The Yun Family's Ninth Child is an Imp! Chapter 3324

Everyone was stunned. What the hell was that? Why couldn't they understand what the judge was saying?

What ten high-grade pills?

What Genius?

Could he have gone mad?

The other judges looked suspiciously at the pill furnaces that had all won. Then, all of them were dumbstruck. They saw that there were ten round eight-transformation life pills inside the pill furnaces. Moreover, all of them were high-grade pills!

They finally understood why that judge fainted!

This all-win was so young, but he actually had such alchemy attainments. If it was given time, he would definitely be an alchemy grandmaster of a generation!

When all-win saw those judges' fierce and hungry eyes, he immediately cried out in his heart. This was already restrained, why was it still so shocking?

Wasn't this towering sky continent higher level than the immortal essence continent? Why was her alchemy level so lousy? If she had known this would happen, she would have restrained herself even more!

Sigh! Being too outstanding was also a burden!

This fellow decided to cover it up. His face revealed an expression of fear and trepidation. “Actually, actually, I have never refined such a high level medicinal pill. Perhaps the medicinal herbs that were randomly stuffed in took effect?”

When the judges heard that, they suddenly came to a realization!

It must be so! They had said that no matter how talented this little girl was, it was impossible for her to be perverted to such an extent. It was likely that she had carelessly done it. They did not know how she had hit the nail on the head!

Some of the judges hurriedly took out a piece of paper and pen and tried their best to recall how Yun Chujiu had done it before. They recorded it down in detail one by one, preparing to go back and ponder over it again. They even wrote down the vegetable leaves.., they even specially asked Yun chujiu what kind of vegetable leaves they were.

Yun chujiu looked at the host and said, “Host, shouldn’t you announce my results?”

The host was dumbfounded as he watched from the side. This series of twists and turns was simply more exciting than what was written in the storybook!

He had originally thought that this all-win was a joke. Who would have thought that it would actually become a legend! This was really melodramatic!

The host steadied his mind and announced loudly, “East Phoenix Country wins all of them, 100% pill success rate, 10 high-grade pills, 50 points.”

Immediately, the pot exploded!

What the hell?

100% pill success rate? 10 high-grade pills?

How was this possible? Don't joke around! Not to mention that little lass, even an alchemist from a middle-grade country wouldn't be able to do it, alright?

However, since the host had already announced it, then it shouldn't be fake anymore. That all-win was really dog SH * t Luck! He actually succeeded just by messing around. There was really no one else!

Qiu Anbang and the other contestants gathered in front of the all-win console to watch in disbelief. When they saw the pills in the alchemy furnace and took them out to smell, their faces were instantly filled with shock. They had actually just refined them.., they had lost!

Prime Minister Sima's expression was simply wonderful!

Disbelief — Surprise — ecstasy. Then, he hugged Yun Zhichen who was beside him and laughed loudly.

Yun Zhichen's heart was like a beeping dog. Prime Minister, you're already so old, can't you be a little more reserved? Didn't you just get first place in the alchemy competition? Did you have to be so excited?

"Crown Prince Yun! The heavens have eyes! Ever since the retired emperor passed away, our East Phoenix country hasn't gotten a single first place!

Moreover, alchemy has always been our East Phoenix country's forte. Now that we've finally gotten first place, this is simply a joyous occasion for the entire world! No, I'll immediately go back and report the good news to His Majesty!"

Yun Zhichen was speechless!

With great difficulty, he managed to pull back the overjoyed prime minister Sima. "Prime minister Sima, calm down! Calm down! His Majesty will be here in the afternoon. You can tell her when the time comes."
