

The Yun Family's Ninth Child is an Imp! Chapter 3344

Yun Chujiu recalled the basic information about the Jing Wood Kingdom. The Jing Wood Kingdom was a second-class kingdom on towering sky continent, and it had ten third-class vassal states under its jurisdiction. Among them, the East Phoenix Kingdom and the other four kingdoms were obviously stronger than the other six kingdoms.

Yun chujiu calculated that if they fell out with the Jing Wood Kingdom, the East Phoenix Kingdom basically had no chance of winning.

The Jing Mu Kingdom's strength suppressed the Dongfeng Kingdom, not to mention that as long as the Jing Mu Kingdom gave the order, the other nine vassal states would attack together, and the Dongfeng Kingdom would only have a dead end.

For now, she could only think of a way to find out the reason why the Jing Mu Kingdom's crown prince wanted to marry her as the crown prince's side concubine. Only then could she have a solution.

Yun Zhichen saw the deep look in Yun Chujiu's eyes, and asked tentatively, "Your Majesty, What do you plan to do?"

Yun chujiu raised her eyebrows and whispered a few words to Yun Zhichen. Yun Zhichen cried out in alarm, "Your Majesty! That's not right! Aren't you entering the tiger's mouth like a sheep? ! This is too risky!"

Yun chujiu said indifferently, "Other than that, do you have a better idea?"

"This, this is not true, but you can't do that either! No one will agree!" Yun zhichen shook his head repeatedly.

Yun Chujiu's tone was still indifferent. "Even if you don't agree, you have to agree. Are you going to watch our East Phoenix Kingdom be destroyed?"

Yun Zhichen saw the determination in Yun Chujiu's eyes and knew that she had made up her mind. He could only remain silent.

After Yun Zhichen left, Yun Chujiu held her chin and pondered for a moment. Then, a light flashed in her eyes and she took out three voice transmission talismans.

"Your Majesty nanxuan, I plan to visit your Majesty Mu Xuan in the Jing Wood Kingdom in the next few days. Is Your Majesty Nanxuan willing to go with me?"

"I'm sure you know that the Crown Prince of the Jing Wood Kingdom has asked me to be his concubine. I'm going there to meet the crown prince of the Jing Wood Kingdom and exchange my feelings. I also want to see the prosperity of the second-class countries.

"If your Majesty Nanxuan wants to go with you, I'll mention it in the national letter. I'm sure your Majesty Mu Xuan Won't refuse."

Yun chujiu sent the same message to Emperor Xiwen and Emperor bei Jing. She believed that the three of them would agree.

Second-class countries had always been high and mighty. They rarely allowed people from third-class countries to enter. People were curious. Naturally, Emperor Nan Xuan and the other two wanted to see what a second-class country was like.

Moreover, this was a good opportunity to suck up to them. Perhaps Emperor Mu Xuan would cut the tributes of the three countries when he was happy. How could they let go of such a rare opportunity? !

As expected, Emperor Nan Xuan and the other two quickly replied and expressed their willingness to go together.

Yun chujiu immediately asked Prime Minister Sima to draft a national letter and sent Yun Zhichen to the border of Dongfeng Kingdom and Jingmu Kingdom.

After Yun Zhichen explained the purpose of his visit, he gave a lot of spiritual stones to the manager of Jingmu Kingdom's relay station. The manager immediately sent someone to send the national letter to the capital of Jingmu Kingdom.

Mu Xuan agreed to Yun Chujiu's request. However, he stated that Yun Chujiu and the other three could only bring ten followers each.

Yun Chujiu did not mind. No matter how many people she brought, they were no match for the Jing Mu Country. Four people were enough.

Yun chujiu thought for a while and brought prime minister Sima along. Then, she brought two palace maids and six guards and set off from an city.

When Yun Chujiu and the others arrived at the border, Emperor Nan Xuan and the other two had already brought their attendants and were waiting there.

Yun Chujiu revealed a bright smile and nodded slightly. "After not seeing you for a few days, your majesties look even more radiant."
