

The Yun Family's Ninth Child is an Imp! Chapter 3349

Emperor Nan Xuan and the other two immediately had ugly expressions on their faces. They were the monarchs of the vassal states, so there was no need for them to kneel and worship. What was the meaning of this? !

Although the three of them were extremely displeased, they didn't dare to say anything since they were new here. They just stood there stiffly without moving.

The people of the Jingmu Kingdom were gloating over their misfortune. So what if you are the monarchs of the vassal states? In Our Jingmu Kingdom, you are nothing!

If they don't bow, it means they are looking down on our emperor. If they bow, they will lose all their face. Let's see what they will do.

At this moment, the people heard Yun Chujiu laughing. "Is this Lord Wu joking? Although we have known each other for a while, it is better not to joke on such an occasion.

"The Jingmu Kingdom is a big country. I believe that His Majesty Mu Xuan is also kind and benevolent. He will not really let us kneel and worship, right?"

The people of the Jingmu Kingdom were obviously a little confused. They had never dreamed that the female emperor of Fenghua would use such a method to resolve this situation. Although her words were light and cheerful., however, as the ruler of a country, it was naturally inappropriate for Mu Xuan to insist that they kneel and worship.

Emperor Mu Xuan's face froze for a moment. Then, he glared at Lord Wu and said in a deep voice, "There's no need to be so polite, my dear ministers. Please take your seats!"

Yun Chujiu and the other three sat behind the four tables on the left.

Since it was a formal dinner, there was a square table in front of each of them. On the table, there were tea, cakes, and other things.

Yun Chujiu's seat was placed in the first place, followed by Emperor Nan Xuan, Emperor Xiwen, and Emperor bei Jing.

The three of them didn't have any thoughts about this. After all, Yun Chujiu was the main character this time, and they were just borrowing the spotlight.

As soon as Yun Chujiu took her seat, she felt several gazes, two of which were the most obvious.

One of them came from opposite her, and a young crown prince was sitting opposite her. Judging from the seating arrangement, he should be the crown prince who was going to marry her.

Yun chujiu glanced at him. He was quite good-looking, but the aggressiveness in his gaze made Yun chujiu very disgusted. He looked at her as if she was his own property. How Shameless!

The other gaze came from a beautiful woman with an elegant temperament. Yun chujiu guessed that this must be Miss Liu, who was going to be the crown prince's consort.

Although the lady had concealed her gaze well, yun chujiu still felt some disdain and hostility. However, this was understandable. If she did not have any hostility, it would be like seeing a ghost.

Emperor Mu Xuan said a few polite words and then changed the topic, "Minister Fenghua, since you are here, you should stay for a few more days. I will ask the crown prince to accompany you around. When you get married, you will be able to adapt faster."

Yun chujiu blushed and lowered her head without saying a word.

Mu Xuan thought that she was shy, so he just laughed and signaled for the banquet to begin.

When the crown prince, Jing Jiahong, saw Yun Chujiu's shy face, he couldn't help but feel a little moved. Although he didn't have much interest in the female emperor at first.., however, he didn't expect that the female emperor of Fenghua was not only beautiful but also interesting. It was a pleasant surprise.

When Liu Hanyan saw the crown prince's expression, she couldn't help but clench the handkerchief in her hand. She looked at Yun Chujiu with killing intent in her eyes.

She looked at Lord Wu, who nodded in understanding.

After three rounds of wine and five different dishes, there were singers and dancers who came up to entertain them.

When the performance came to an end, she heard lord wu say sourly, "I heard that Her Majesty Fenghua is good at singing and dancing. Why Don't you let us have an eye-opener too!"
