

The Yun Family's Ninth Child is an Imp! Chapter 3444

Hei Xinjiu did not sleep well these days, so she fell asleep quickly even though she was frustrated.

The next morning, Hei Xinjiu finally received di Beiming's reply. There were only two dry words: "Wait!"

Yun chujiu pursed her lips. was he playing with her? Ptui!

This guy did not ask much. He just told her to wait!

The Fat Old Man would ask Yun chujiu some questions from time to time. He just wanted to know where her home was so that he could send her back.

Yun Chujiu's heart skipped a beat. F * ck! She was so stupid!

Wasn't this a ready-made person that could be used? Why didn't she remember? ! !

She could totally make up that she was the child of a big family in the East Phoenix Country. As long as she left the star Sun Country, she could meet up with Prime Minister Sima and the others!

Just when Hei Xinjiu was vexed, she heard the fat old man muttering to himself, "I wonder where this little girl is from. As long as she is not from the East Phoenix Country, it will be fine."

Little nine blinked her eyes and asked curiously, "Grandpa, what did you say? Why is it fine as long as she is not from the East Phoenix Country?"

The Fat Old Man was already used to the little girl's sometimes smart and sometimes cute appearance. Therefore, he was not surprised that she would ask such a question. He said in a low voice,

“The borders of our star Sun Country and East Phoenix country are tightly sealed. It is impossible to pass through without a document issued by the government. Moreover, I heard that no one is allowed to enter or leave these days!”

The Fat Old Man could not help but laugh when he said this. He had really lost his mind. Why was he talking about this with a three or four-year-old child? !

Yun Chujiu’s heart was shocked. Why did star Sun Country seal the borders for no reason? Could it be that they had a plot? No, she had to remind prime minister Sima.

Therefore, Yun Chujiu took the time to send a voice transmission talisman to prime minister Sima to remind him to pay attention to the star Sun kingdom’s movements.

On this day, the fat old man was checking the accounts while little nine was sitting on the chair with a candy ball in her mouth. She was swaying her calves leisurely.

At this moment, the originally noisy room quieted down. Everyone looked at the white-clothed man who walked in from the door.

With just a glance, everyone lowered their heads and did not dare to look at the man who looked like a god. The powerful pressure made it difficult for them to breathe.

The Fat Old Man was slightly better than the others. Just as he was about to brace himself and ask the man in white if he was staying in the hotel, little nine jumped down from the chair and ran over. “Daddy! Daddy! You’re finally here to pick up little nine!”

A certain someone:” ...”

Little nine hugged a certain someone's thigh and refused to let go. Needless to say, from her current point of view, the pretty boy was even more handsome! He was so handsome that it was almost unbearable to look at!

She really had good taste. She had booked this monster early on. Putting everything else aside, their little monkey would definitely look very good in the future.

Just as little nine was thinking happily, she heard a cold and piercing voice coming from above her head. "Let go."

Little nine pursed her lips, as if a basin of ice water was poured on the top of her head. Damn it, she almost forgot that this person was a bastard who had no emotions.

Little Nine had no choice but to let go of her claws and looked at a certain venerable pitifully.

A certain venerable looked deeply at little nine and said coldly, "Daddy?"

Little nine bit her finger and said pitifully, "Daddy, I Won't make you angry in the future. Don't abandon me."

Although the people outside the shop were a little afraid of a certain venerable's imposing manner, when they saw the pitiful little girl, they immediately looked at a certain venerable with disapproval..
