

The Yun Family's Ninth Child is an Imp! Chapter 557

Although Di Beiming was gritting his teeth in anger on the surface, his heart was occupied by the immense joy of Yun Chujiu waking up. He could not believe that the black thing was really cured!

However, he was still very worried in his heart. The grass in her Dantian was like a sharp sword on her neck. It could kill her at any moment.

Yun Chujiu took out the chopping board and ran back to the dormitory as if a wolf was chasing after her!

'Ah, wasn't that embarrassing?!

'The gigolo was actually surrounded by people!

'These old guys had no manners at all! They actually barged in without knocking on the door!

'Damn it! If I were to do something bad again, I'd definitely activate the isolation array!'

This girl thought of her little steamed buns. 'Oh my, they've bulged a little. It seems that I'm one step closer to becoming a great beauty!'

Di Beiming entered the bedroom and saw Yun Chujiu...

Di Beiming's face instantly turned red. He turned around and stammered, "Black Thing! What are you doing in broad daylight?!"

Yun Chujiu's face turned even redder. She shouted, "Who told you to come in without knocking?! I didn't do anything. I was just taking a look. Hehe, they've really made some progress."

Di Beiming, who was looking at her face, was stunned at first. Then, he thought of something and his nose started bleeding...

“Prince Charming, why is your nose bleeding again? This is an illness. You need to be treated! Otherwise, you’ll bleed to death in the future!”

Di Beiming glared at her, covered his nose, and ran away!

Yun Chujiu giggled happily. ‘Gigolo, you want to fight with me? I’ll tease you to death!’

Di Beiming entered the bedroom with a straight face, “Black Thing, tell me in detail what happened this time.”

“It’s the damn foxtail! When I woke up, I found my soul had left my body. I just floated in the air and watched you guys...” Yun Chujiu told him what she had experienced.

“Are you saying that the strange grass wants to take your body for its own? It can control your body?”

“Yes, previously in the desert, this supercilious grass controlled my body and made me drink a lot of water. Prince Charming, this pig of a grass is getting fatter and fatter, and I think it’s about to kill me!” A rare trace of worry appeared on Yun Chujiu’s small face.

Although Di Beiming was even more worried, he calmly said to Yun Chujiu, “Black Thing, you don’t have to worry too much. I’ve already sent my subordinates to look for my master. As long as I find my master, I will definitely have a way to get rid of this strange grass.”

Yun Chujiu nodded. “Prince Charming, then before your master has any news, I will temporarily stop cultivating. If I level up again, maybe the strange grass will grow another leaf. At that time, I will really choke on my farts!”

Di Beiming nodded. “What you said makes sense. Let’s not cultivate for the time being.”

After this incident, Di Beiming had already thought things through. ‘If the Black Thing is weak, so be it. Worst comes to worst, I will send a few more people to protect her. As long as she’s alive, it’s better than any other thing already.’

Yun Chujiu continued with a smile, “Prince Charming, didn’t you say that you would get someone to buy all the storybooks that I like and give them to me? Quickly send someone to buy them! It will be good for me to pass the time!”

Di Beiming nodded. “An Feng, go to Spirit Radiance City right now and buy all the storybooks that Little Jiu likes!”

An Feng agreed and left with a hopeless expression. When he thought about how people would perceive him when he buys those storybooks, he really wanted to die!
