

The Yun Family's Ninth Child is an Imp! Chapter 717

Yun Chujiu slowly followed behind the Goshawk Sect disciples. Liu Qian and the others gritted their teeth and entered the stone door vigilantly.

After everyone had entered, the stone door closed with a rumble.

Despite that, everyone was too distracted by what was in front of them!

They were in a dome-shaped hall. Inside lay a stretch of azure seawater which seemed to defy all reason. Not only was there swaying seaweed but there were also all kinds of beautiful fish swimming around, everyone felt as if they were in an underwater world.

“Oh my god! It's too beautiful! Is this the Crystal Palace?!”

“It could also be the Dragon King's Palace! The Dragon is the richest divine beast. We're going to be rich!”

“Could it be that the seawater is sealed inside? But how do these fish breathe? Why don't we see how it works!” A Goshawk Sect disciple took out an axe and was about to chop at the stone slab beneath his feet.

“Stop! Are you trying to get us killed?!” This time, Liu Qian reacted faster and gave the disciple a hard slap.

The disciple was in a state of excitement just now, and the slap woke him up. He was a little stunned, and then said, “Sect leader, I... I wasn't myself just now.”

Before the disciple finished his words, a few other disciples took out their swords and sabers and were about to strike the floor and the stone wall, but they were stopped by a few elders.

“Everyone, this place is really strange. There are things that confuse the mind. Everyone must be careful.” At this moment, Liu Qian already had the intention to retreat. However, there was no way out now, so he could only move forward.

However, after looking around, they did not find any other exits. Could it be that there was only an empty room here?

Just as everyone was puzzled, blue smoke seeped out from the ground and the walls. In the end, it formed a beautiful woman with a fish tail.

Yun Chujiu blinked her eyes. ‘A mermaid? Aiyo, this is the first time I have seen a living mermaid. She is so beautiful. Her breasts are tall, her waist tender, and her fish tail has a faint blue glow.’

A few male disciples of the Goshawk Sect couldn’t help but drool. They suddenly jumped forward and shouted their excitement. By the time Liu Qian and a few elders tried to stop them, it was already too late.

The woman gently waved her hand, and the male disciples disappeared from where they were. Just when everyone was stunned, the woman smiled and said, “It’s been a long time since I’ve added new fish. This time, there are five more. This is really something to celebrate.”

Everyone followed the direction of the woman’s finger and saw that there were five fish inside the wall ramming the wall. The fishes opened and closed their mouths as if they were shouting something.

Everyone felt their hair stand on end. This mermaid woman could turn a person into small fish. It was too terrifying!

Then, under this floor, wouldn’t the wall be filled with people?

Liu Qian's clothes were drenched in a cold sweat. His voice trembled as he said, "Fairy, we entered this place by mistake. We didn't mean to offend you. Can you let us out?"

Turning into a fish and being sealed in the stone wall was a fate worse than death. Liu Qian was filled with regret. He hated the person who gave him the sheepskin map. This was not a place with treasure. This was purgatory in the human world!
