

The Yun Family's Ninth Child is an Imp! Chapter 861

After the Leopard King recovered from his shock, a look of disdain appeared on his face. This little girl was indeed quite sick. Who did she think she was? She still wanted to order them around? Dream on! Besides, what did she mean by the name 'Little Bun'? They were leopards, not buns! Was she not able to distinguish between apples and oranges? It was truly terrifying to be uncultured!

Damned little girl! Regardless of whether her meat could be eaten or not, daring to provoke them like this was courting death!

The Leopard King roared a few times and signaled for its underlings to attack together. They would bite this little girl to death first.

Yun Chujiu curled her lips. The intelligence of these leopards was really worrying. Since they were asking for it, then she would not hold back! In just a few seconds, the Leopard King and its underlings were tragically thunderstruck into nothing but leopard spots.

After the bodies of these Ironhide Leopards were charred black by Yun Chujiu's heavenly lightning, she said with a smile, "How is it? Doesn't this new look suit you better? As a reward, help me find those trapped people. Otherwise, Hmph, I'll burn all your hair off!"

The Leopard King was about to cry!

It had never met such a devilish human! They said that the humans who came here were only spirit cultivators. Why was this fiend in front of him a spirit emperor?! Moreover, it was no normal low-level spirit emperor, it was a freaking Heavenly Thunder Root Spirit! Why was life so unfair?!

When he thought about how he would end up bald and riddled with injuries from lightning strikes in the future, he shuddered from fear.

Under Yun Chujiu's tyrannical power, the Leopard King could only nod his head and sullenly agree.

In the beginning, Yun Chujiu followed from behind while the Leopard King and his subordinates led the way. After walking for a while, Yun Chujiu shouted, "Wait! I'm tired from walking. Little Bun, I'll get on your back. You carry me!"

The Leopard King felt that he had nothing left to live for!

If the other beast kings saw him carrying the little girl like a servile spirit pet, he would not be able to survive the ensuing humiliation!

The Leopard King decided to resist death. Yes! He would rather die than let the little girl have it her way!

After a few lightning strikes, the Leopard King comforted himself. This king said that he would not let the little girl succeed even if he died. Since he was still alive, he could only give in to her demands.

Yun Chujiu leisurely rode on the Leopard King's back, and from time to time, she would pick on it. "Don't you have eyes? You can't even go around a puddle? You splashed mud on my shoes!"

"Are the pads on your paws just for decoration? Can't you be more stable? I spilled two drops of my tea!"

The Leopard King felt that it must have owed this little girl something in its previous life. That was why he was so intensely bullied by her now. It had lived for more than a thousand years, but this was the first time it had been bullied so badly. This sort of treatment was unheard of!

The Leopard King felt that its little heart had suffered a critical hit of tens of thousands of points. It could only turn its grief and anger into speed, hoping to get rid of the jinx on its back as soon as possible.

As a beast king in this valley, the Leopard King naturally knew where the human cultivators gathered. It had also planned to attack those people, but seeing that there were so many of them, it knew it had no chance of winning, so it gave up on the idea.

Early the next morning, Yun Chujiu saw a group of cultivators from afar. There were thousands of them, gathered in twos and threes.

The cultivators also noticed Yun Chujiu as she approached.

The Sun had just risen in the morning, and the valley was covered with multicolored light. Amidst the light, a white-clothed girl rode a leopard and slowly approached.

The girl's brows and eyes were exquisite as if drawn by a paintbrush bit by bit. A brilliant smile was on her face, and she repeatedly waved at everyone.. "Everyone, long time no see! I'm here to save you!"
